U.N. Police Force Leaves For Suez

CAPODICHINO STAGING AREA, Italy, Thursday, Nov. 15 (AP) —The first units of the U.N. police army for the Middle East took off here before dawn today for the Suez Canal zone.

The two chartered Swissair planes carrying them to the silent battlefront are expected to land behind Egyptian lines near Ismailia.

The flight from this takeoff point near Naples at the foot of Mt. Vesuvius is about 1,300 miles.

The peace force had been idling here since last weekend under a series of alerts for flights that never got off the ground for one reason or another.

Inspection

Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns inspected his force of Norwegians, Danes, Canadians and Colombians and then got word from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to send them on without further delay.

Burns is to confer in Rome tomorrow with Hammarskjold, who is en route from New York to Cairo.

Burns said he would set up a combined headquarters "within the consultation area itself—to the west of the canal zone."

Reporters asked: "Does that mean in Ismailia, or Port Said?"

Burns shrugged: "That is all I can say about this at the moment."

East Stroudsburg Girl, Family Return Home From Middle East

By Leonard Randolph

RUSSIAN "volunteers" in the Middle East may trigger the world into a third global war, Joseph Stonskas said last night in East Stroudsburg.

Stonskas and his wife — the former Carolyn Toewe—and their two children arrived home yesterday. They were evacuated from Cairo, Egypt two weeks ago as part of a desperate, fever-pitch effort to get all U.S. civilians out of the explosive, war-torn area.

Last night — for the first time in those two weeks — The Stonskas were looking forward to "just relaxing for a while and getting some good American food under our belts."

Stonskas is a pilot for Trans World Airlines, perhaps better known by its trade-abbreviated name TWA. Until six months ago he had been stationed in Los Angeles, Calif.

Joe is an Air Force veteran of World War Two, Pacific Theatre of Operations. He flew 52 combat missions, beginning with Guadalcanal in 1943 and running most of the length of the Pacific war.

Both Carolyn and Joe like Los Angeles. When the chance for the transfer to Cairo came through earlier this year, however, they took it gratefully. Even with the rattle of warfare fresh in their minds, they're still not sorry they did.

Beautiful

They found Egypt to be a beautiful country. They liked the Egyptian people and got along with them well enough. Joe found a "beautiful" apartment in one of the most modern buildings in suburban Cairo, Carolyn said.

"The Egyptians use marble quite a lot in building homes and villas. And in the apartment house where we lived, the wood floors were laid in a beautifully intricate parquet pattern, like tile," Carolyn went on. The Stonskas were also blessed with a wonderfully likeable and loyal Sudanese cook.

If the people were easy to get along with and the climate was excellent, both Joe and Carolyn found much to marvel at in the Egyptian political scene. The "election" of Maj. Nasser during the past year was one of the high spots of a somewhat Alice-in-Wonderland satire on the whole idea of choosing a leader. This, according to Joe, is the way it worked:

A voter went to the local police house. There he was given a card which bore his name, Nasser's picture, a small box in one corner under the word "Yes" and a space for the voter's fingerprint. Everyone was required to vote. There was no choice. There wasn't even a space for a man to mark "No" on his card.

Primary aim of the "election" was to give Nasser a huge "popular vote." He got it. But it wasn't quite what he'd had his heart set on. When the "voters" were all counted, they found that only 99.8 percent of those who voted had said "Yes." Some of them, it developed, hadn't marked anything on their ballots.

Camp

The remaining two-tenths of one percent were declared "disqualified" and everything turned out in apple-pie-order anyway. At a friend's home, Joe asked a servant what would happen if "you didn't mark anything or you didn't vote." The servant "shrugged his shoulders" and said: "There is a camp somewhere . . . " and motioned toward the desert.

Although he has delusions of grandeur, Nasser has done many good things for the Egyptian people, Stonskas feels. There are more roads now, better roads, parks, irrigation projects and better living standards for most of the people.

The crisis in the Middle East erupted like a sudden, maddening

BREATHING SPACE for this family yesterday came only after escape from Middle East war half-way around the world. Here Joe and Carolyn (Toewe) Stonskas relax on steps of Carolyn's parents' home (Dr. and Mrs. William Toewe) at 280 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg. Also relaxing, for a change, are lively Joe Jr., 3 and Jacquelyn, now 1. (Staff Photo By MacLeod)

'Volunteer' Threat Brings Firm Stand

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — President Eisenhower pledged American support today for United Nations action to block Russia and Red China from sending weapons and so-called "volunteers" into the troubled Middle East.

At a news conference, he said "it would be the duty" of the U.N., including the United States, to oppose any such Communist intervention.

The President did not say what form the opposition should take, saying, "it would depend upon the circumstances."

Asked what steps would be taken "beyond simply subscribing to resolutions," the President replied:

"Well, I can't tell you what it would be. But the United Nations, if you will read its charter, is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions, and in one instance, at least, showed that it was not so limited.

Circumstances

"So I don't know exactly what we would do. It would depend upon the circumstances."

The "one instance" to which he referred apparently was the U.N. military action against Red aggression in Korea.

The President spoke only a few minutes before Moscow dispatches reported Egypt had formally requested Russia to dispatch "volunteers" to bolster its armed forces.

The State Department declined to comment on the Moscow report but top officials were reported gravely following all developments, fearing such a Soviet move might wreck the jittery cease-fire in Egypt.

Replying to questions, Eisenhower made these points in commenting on international problems:

1. Russia's military onslaught against Hungary violates "all justice and right in the world." However, he said his administration has never advocated "open rebellion by an undefended populace" against overwhelming military force.

2. This "is simply not the time" for a summit conference with Russia's leaders because the U.N. should be given time to settle the Middle East crisis.

3. Any Western Big Three conference with British and French chiefs of state should also be put off for a while, even though he believes U.S. friendship with these two countries must develop "stronger than ever" once the Middle East crisis ends.

4. The United States stands ready to help guarantee permanent boundaries in the Middle East, as well as extend financial help to both Arabs and Israel, in line with a pledge voiced by Secretary of State Dulles Aug. 25, 1955 but such U.S. aid should be part of an over-all Middle East settlement.

Red Puppets Admit Shipping Hungarians In Railway Cars

VIENNA, Nov. 14, (AP)—Russia's puppet government in Budapest admitted today the Soviet army is deporting Hungarians to the east in sealed railway cars in a desperate effort finally to crush the revolution.

This surprising disclosure came from Radio Budapest, which also said Hungarian workers, aroused by news of the deportations, "are leaving their jobs in increasing numbers."

There were reports that the anti-Red rebels tried desperately to halt the train traffic eastward by blowing up tracks, but were mowed down by Soviet fire.

Hungary's economy was crippled by a general strike which received new impetus by defiant Hungarians on Csepel Island near Budapest even as their armed resistance crumpled.

Smash

Russian tanks and guns smashed the last armed rebel positions on that big island industrial area, but workers refused to return to their jobs and demanded anew that Soviet troops leave the capital.

A dispatch from Budapest said the workers held a mass meeting after putting down their arms.

They demanded that the regime of Premier Janos Kadar be thrown out of office and Imre Nagy be restored to the premiership.

Nagy was deposed by Soviet might two weeks ago. He had promised free elections, independence from Moscow, a neutral Hungary and the start of negotiations for withdrawal of all Soviet troops.

From his refuge in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest Nagy sent out word that he was avoiding any contact with Kadar, who is seeking Nagy's cooperation in an effort to win some popular support.

All major factories in Budapest remained idle. There was no street car transportation. Some stores opened mainly to supply food to the hungry population.

Budapest radio told of the deportation of Hungarians in a broadcast explaining why the general strike had not ended.

In Szolnok County southeast of Budapest, the radio said, 40 per cent of the workers had returned to work and some rail traffic had started.

It added:

"But according to the latest reports prisoners have been transported to the east in locked railway cars and for that reason the railwaymen started to strike again."

Ike Sizes Up Election

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — President Eisenhower sized up the election today as offering "somewhat of a mandate" from the people to work "industriously and incessantly" for a program of modern Republicanism.

Yet Eisenhower conceded that an election cleavage which gave him an enormous vote of confidence while keeping Congress in Democratic hands meant this:

From my viewpoint, the United States has not yet been convinced that modern Republicanism is with us and is going to be the guiding philosophy of the Republican party."

Russians Smash Last Resistance

BUDAPEST, Nov. 14 (AP)—Russian tanks and guns smashed the last rebel resistance on Csepel Island today. This ended the fighting in the capital which some estimates say has claimed as many as 20,000 Hungarian lives.

The workers at plants on the island held a mass meeting after putting down their arms. They demanded that the puppet government installed by the Russians Nov. 4 be thrown out and former Premier Imre Nagy be reinstated. They said they would continue their strike until Nagy takes office and Russian troops are withdrawn from Budapest.

Nagy is a refugee in the Yugo-Russian guard.

Word

He sent out word today he was avoiding any contacts with present Premier Janos Kadar, who has been seeking to bolster his government with some of Nagy's prestige.

The action of the Csepel Island workers added new impetus to the general strike, which is severely crippling Hungary's Communist economy. All major factories in Budapest are idle. The street car system is not functioning. Some stores have opened, mainly to supply food to the hungry population.

The road to Csepel was packed with Russian armor. Soviet sentries checked every car and truck going to and from the island.

The workers, who have been slugging it out against overwhelming Russian superiority for more than a week, welcomed Western correspondents to their mass meeting.

"We do not recognize Kadar and his so-called government," speakers shouted to the cheering men and women at the meeting.

Soviet 'Intervention' Threat Mounts In Middle East Area

LONDON, Thursday, Nov. 15 (AP) — The U. N. Middle East police force flew its first units off to the Suez Canal zone today.

They were sped on their way from Italy by a mounting threat of intervention by Soviet "volunteers" in invaded Egypt.

For two days so-called technical difficulties and diplomatic obstacles had stalled the U. N. emergency force vanguard in Italy.

But Wednesday an Arab diplomatic source in Moscow reported Egypt's President Nasser had asked the Kremlin to send to Egypt immediately the thousands of Russians reported to have volunteered to join Egypt's armed forces.

Within a few hours of this report, U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold urgently ordered the international force to proceed promptly from its staging area at Capodichino near Naples.

Before Dawn

Before dawn this morning two Swiss air planes carrying 95 Danes and Norwegians, the first of the peace soldiers, took off from Capodichino on the 5½-hour, 1,300-mile flight to an airfield near Ismailia.

More units from armed forces of small nations will follow. Troops for the U. N. force have been offered by 17 U. N. members.

Hammarskjold himself left New York last night for Italy and Cairo "to do what I can to assist setting up and getting going a United Nations emergency force in Egypt."

He told newsmen:

"It is the first experience of its kind. It is the first truly international force. Let us hope it will succeed. Let us hope we will succeed in establishing peace and order."

In Cairo, an Egyptian official said U. N. Palestine truce observers were arranging accommodations for the U. N. soldiers. They will be billeted at a former British army camp at Abu Suweir in the Egyptian-held portion of the canal zone.

FBI Agent Fires Charge At Levitan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — A former FBI undercover agent testified today he knew Philadelphia Atty. A. Harry Levitan as a member of the Communist party.

This face-to-face identification of Levitan was made by Herman Thomas during a stormy session of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Levitan, who was on the witness stand at the time, swore that he is not now a Communist but refused to say whether he had ever been one. He invoked the Fifth Amendment privilege against possible self-incrimination in declining to answer this and many other questions.

Levitan and his attorney, Joseph Forer of Washington, demanded the right to cross examine Thomas but were not allowed to do so.

Levitan said Thomas testified during an immigration hearing in Philadelphia that he didn't know whether Levitan was a Communist.

"Keep Quiet"

When Forer kept asking for the right to question Thomas, Chairman Walter (D-Pa) told him "just keep quiet. One of these days you are going to have an opportunity to testify." Forer said that Walter shouldn't "threaten" him when he appeared before the committee as an attorney.

When Committee Counsel Richard Arens asked Levitan whether he now is a member of the Communist party, the witness replied, "I am not."

Levitan refused to say whether he was a Communist a year ago but said "I was not" when asked whether he was a Communist six months ago, or nine months ago. When Arens asked about 10½ months ago, Forer suggested "we shorten this numbers game."

"This is not a numbers game," Walter told him. Walter then asked Levitan: "When did you cease to be a member of the Communist party?" Levitan said he hadn't admitted that he had ever been a member.

It was at this point that Arens asked Thomas to step forward. Thomas said he served as an FBI undercover agent within the Communist party from April, 1944 to May, 1954.

Asked whether he knew Levitan as a Communist, Thomas replied, "Yes I did." Arens asked Thomas to point out Levitan. Thomas did.

President Issues Blast At Soviets

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — President Eisenhower today described Russia's methods in stamping out the Hungarian revolt as "the negation of all justice and right in the world."

Another manifestation of American concern with events in Hungary came from the State Department. A spokesman for the department said Russia is deporting Hungarian patriots to the Soviet Union in sealed railway cars. He expressed "revulsion" at such acts.

Eisenhower, discussing U.S. policy in the light of recent developments in Hungary, said "we simply insist upon the right of all people to be free to live under governments of their own choosing."

Confirmation

It would be a "most terrible mistake," the President told his news conference, for the free world "ever to accept the enslavement of the Eastern European tier of nations as part of the future world."

The State Department announced it had its own confirmation of a Budapest radio report that Hungarians are being herded into railway cars, locked inside and taken away. The radio broadcast, heard in Vienna, said only that the Hungarians were being taken to the east.

Menger Describes Alleged Contact With Men Of Outer Space Who Landed Near High Bridge

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles on Unidentified Flying Objects and the story of Howard Menger, High Bridge, N. J., man who claims to have seen and talked with craft and people from outer space.)

By Leonard Randolph

"YOU HEAR THIS VOICE. It's like a distant radio or a telephone conversation somewhere a little away from you."

With those words, Howard Menger, the 34-year-old High Bridge, N. J., sign painter who claims he has contacted men from outer space and flown in one of their ships, describes the contact between himself and these other beings.

Perhaps the most remarkable facet of Menger's story—to the average, unbelieving man on the street, that is—would be the fact that men from Mars or Venus or any other planet could contact an American man in his native English.

Not so, says Menger.

"These people can speak in any language they choose," he has said. "They use telepathic communication on their own planets. When they talk with us they can speak any language they like."

Important

Even more important, to Menger, is the idea that the men from outer space speak a "universal language" of love and understanding. It is because of this idealistic view of communications that Menger feels he has been chosen as a kind of missionary to tell the people on Earth about space inhabitants.

And it is also the reason that he was "invited" to take a ride in one of the unorthodox space craft which he maintains settled down for a landing on a mountain near his home on the morning of August 4.

Menger's space craft is not so unusual as one might think, regarding it from a surface observation. It resembles, in some external details, previously "sighted" or "discovered" space ships of which published photographs have been available for some time. Chief among the men who has photographed such craft in the past has been George Adamski, an erstwhile UFO observer who makes his home on the slanting slopes of Mount Palomar, a natural habitat of Man's unusual interest in things fantastic and scientific. Adamski's theories also closely resemble those advanced by Menger: That the spacemen have approached certain carefully-selected humans to bring a message of love and a warning of international Earthly disaster.

Howard Menger's description of entering the space ship near his home is vivid in its simplicity. As usual in Menger's discussion of any of the things which he says have transpired in recent months, there

OUTER SPACE communications have put Howard Menger and his wife Rose in center of UFO controversy lately. Photo was taken last Sunday in Mengers' cellar where group of people talked with him by Gene Felker, Stroudsburg.

Conspirator Blames Telvi

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — A confessed conspirator in the acid blinding of columnist Victor Riesel today pinned the act on slain Abe Telvi. He said Telvi himself was so burned by the acid that his face was "dripping blood."

The witness, Joseph Peter Carlino, testified that the acid attack was Telvi's own idea, the original plan having been merely to give Riesel a beating.

Quits Parliament

LONDON, Thursday, Nov. 15 (AP) —Anthony Nutting, 36, who quit Prime Minister Eden's government as minister of state for foreign affairs Nov. 4 in disagreement with its Middle Eastern policy, resigned today as a member of Parliament.

Kilmer Home For Refugees

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The White House announced today the Army is preparing temporary housing at Camp Kilmer, N.J., for the vanguard of about 5,000 Hungarian refugees to be admitted to this country.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said there is "a very good chance" that the first of the Soviet-oppressed refugees will arrive at the camp by the end of next week.

Draws Prison Term

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 14 (AP) —Virginia Jaspers, a big blonde baby attendant, who said "children sometimes get on my nerves," was sentenced to 10 to 22 years in prison today for the fatal shaking of two of them.

Hammarskjold Flies To Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold flew tonight on a dramatic mission to "establish peace and order" in the Middle East after flashing urgent instructions for the new U. N. peace patrol to go to Egypt.

He thrust aside all diplomatic obstacles in decisive gestures and took off from Idlewild Airport, New York en route to Italy and thence to Cairo. He told newsmen he was going to Cairo "to do what I can to assist in setting up and getting going a United Nations emergency force in Egypt."

"It is the first experience of its kind," he said. "It is the first truly international force. Let us hope that it will succeed. Let us hope that we will succeed in establishing peace and order."

Postponed For Year

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP) The steering committee of the U.N. General Assembly tonight recommended 8-5 the Assembly postpone for a year any action to oust Nationalist China or seat Communist China. It sent the recommendation to the full Assembly for final decision.

Mamie's Day

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14, (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower, in a shining purple satin dress, had a beaming "thank you" today for all the "happy birthdays" sent her way.

Good Morning!

WHEN YOU'RE down in the dumps always remember this: half the people aren't interested in hearing about your troubles, and the other half are glad you're finally getting what you deserve.

Viewing the Screens

NBC'S "WIDE, WIDE WORLD" will portray America at worship when it presents "A Visit With the Three Faiths" Sunday, Nov. 25 at 4 p. m. The program will visit, among other places, the San Fernando Mission in California, where young men prepare for priesthood; America's oldest synagogue in Newport, R. I., Protestant Congregational Community Centers in Chicago; evangelist Billy Graham preaching at St. Louis Arena, and St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City.

Paul Winchell and Jerry Mahoney bring something new in TV wrestling to the audience tonight in the way of a king-sized cobra on "Circus Time" at 8 on Ch. 6 and 7. Also included on the program will be dancers, a singer and an animal act, along with the clowning of Paul and Jerry.

A delightful half-hour at 9 p.m. on Ch. 3 and 4 brings Jackie Cooper in "People's Choice." Tonight both Jackie and the about-to-be-married mayor suffer pre-nuptial jitters, and Jackie gets mixed up preparing to give his Aunt Gus away and advising the mayor about bees in the ventilating shaft at city hall.

Ralph Bellamy, Nina Foch, Lloyd Bridges and John Ericson will star in an hour-and-a-half original television drama "Heritage of Anger" on "Playhouse 90" at 9:30 p.m. on Ch. 2 and 10. "Heritage of Anger" recounts the story of a business tycoon whose stubborn determination to turn his empire over to two sons nearly ends in tragedy. Another drama on Ch. 3 and 4 at 10 p.m. stars George Nader in "The Glass Web," a story which takes place in a television studio.

Among the guests on the Steve Allen Show at 11:30 p.m. on Ch. 3 and 4 will be Blackstone the Magician, but our guess is that he would have a hard time trying to make Allen disappear.

Sports

Amateur boxing at 9 p.m. on Ch. 13.

Current Movies

Sherman Theater — "The Opposite Sex."

Grand Theater — "Tension at Table Rock."

Mt. Zion Holds Annual Board Meeting

MT. ZION Methodist Church held its monthly official board meeting recently at the church.

Much of the meeting was devoted to discussion of the new addition to the church which the building committee plans to start in the early spring.

Committee

Mrs. Earl Lee, Sr., Mrs. Earl Sandt, Mrs. Herbert Haney, Howard Teada and J. C. Berry were appointed to the committee to raise funds for this project.

Following the meeting refreshments were served.

COMEDY WITH A TWIST is "The Philadelphia Story." Directed by Ralph Smith, it will be given tonight and Friday night at State Teachers College auditorium by students on local campus. (Staff Photo By Randolph)

Local Couple Parents Of Second Child

CARLISLE BARRACKS, Pa. Nov. 14—Sergeant First Class and Mrs. Gilbert W. Gray have announced the birth of a daughter, Sharon Lynn, at the U.S. Army Hospital, Carlisle Barracks, Pa., on Friday, Nov. 10.

The sergeant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, 118 W. Broad St., East Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Gray is the former Mary Arnst, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Arnst, Marshalls Creek.

High School

Both parents attended East Stroudsburg High School where the sergeant played a prominent role in all sports. He is assigned to Carlisle Barracks as a Special Service noncommissioned officer.

Since entering the Army in 1949, SFC Gray has served in Germany and France. The Gray's have a son Michael, age four.

Service Meeting Held At Church

BANGOR — A Kingdom Service meeting was held at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church Tuesday to outline plans for the annual visitation to be started Sunday.

C. H. Stout, chairman of the gathering, explained local church needs while the Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor, discussed benevolent needs. Two film strips pertaining to the canvass also were shown. Mrs. Clark Hahn acted as the reader. Mrs. Brumbach was the projectionist.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served by the Women's Guild.

Warns Of Intolerance

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States, said today "freedom can be endangered in America even in our day," unless the country stays vigilant against intolerance and injustice.

National Guard Chief Praises Newest Company

MAJ. GEN. Henry K. Fluck, 28th Division Commanding General, last night called Company F, Monroe County's newest National Guard outfit, "an outstanding organization."

Gen. Fluck singled out Lt. Richard L. Rugg, Jr., company commander and 1st Sgt. Vincent E. Marek for special commendation, following a full-scale inspection of the new company at Wayne gymnasium, Teachers College.

At the same inspection, Gen. Fluck administered the enlistment oath to four new Company F recruits. They were William J. Groner, 316 Chestnut St., Pen Argyl; Floyd G. Strausser, Stroudsburg, RD 3; David A. Moser, 108 Harding Ave., Pen Argyl and William L. Reimel, 115 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg.

The four men were given the oath of enlistment in a special ceremony before the full membership of the company and nine visiting military officials.

In commending Rugg and Marek and the company's membership, Gen. Fluck said:

Statement

"You have been organized less than a month and a half and you already show a spirit, interest and military proficiency equal to any other outfit in the Pennsylvania National Guard. I expect to see you at full strength for next Summer's field training period at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation."

Guard units will attend camp next year from Aug. 3 through 17. There were 55 citizen-soldiers at last night's command inspection in the temporary armory.

Earlier in the afternoon, Gen. Fluck visited the flood-devastated East Stroudsburg National Guard Armory. He expressed satisfaction that reconstruction work had begun, but said that the current work delay is "most disappointing."

Gen. Fluck told Armory board chairman Maj. Gerald E. Shanley Jr. that he would personally check on the status of contract arrangements with the Department of Property and Supplies.

Inspecting officers, in addition to Gen. Fluck, were: Col. Robert Fowler, 28th Division Regular Army Adviser; Lt. Col. Earle Palmer, 109th Regular Army Adviser; Lt. Col. John J. Remetta, Second Battalion commander; Maj. John Branca, Division Adjutant General; Maj. Robert Skillen, Division Commandant; Maj. Shanley, who is Battalion S-3 Officer; Capt. Lawrence Cappaletti, Battalion Adviser and Capt. John E. McDonald, 109 Regimental Adjutant.

VERDICT: EXCELLENT — Maj. Gen. Henry Kimmel Fluck carried out a command inspection of Company F, Monroe County National Guard, last night. Gen. Fluck said the company was "outstanding"; praised its officers and men. Here he is shown going down the line of company membership. (Staff Photo By MacLeod)

Christmas Seals To Be Mailed Today

Campaign Goal Set At $11,500

MAILING OF 1956 Christmas Seals to 9,057 homes in Monroe County will get under way today.

All residents of the county are asked to purchase the seals to underwrite the fight against tuberculosis being waged by the Tuberculosis and Health Society. The campaign goal is $11,500.

"No one is safe from tuberculosis until all are safe" is the message the T-B Society seeks to get across to every person between now and Christmas.

Reasons

Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary of the society, said the thought behind the 1956 slogan is one of the reasons for expanding the chest x-ray program in Monroe County.

During the past year, she said, the society financed the cost of taking chest x-rays for 7,831 persons. Of the total number, 4,722 were food handlers and local residents, 2,983 through the x-ray unit the society purchased and placed at General Hospital, and 126 at the request of physicians.

"Eradication of tuberculosis is a long way off," Mrs. Fleming said in outlining an expansion of the fight against the disease during the coming year. It will be impossible to extend the work, however, unless the entire $11,500 goal is realized, she declared.

Mrs. Fleming urged everyone to make their returns on the Christmas Seals as quickly as possible. The society is endeavoring to wind up the annual seal sale by Christmas, less than six weeks away.

This is the 50th year for Christmas Seal sales.

$50,000 Suit Filed Over Hunting Accident In 1954

A $50,000 SUIT HAS BEEN filed in Lehigh County Court by the widow of a man who was killed in a hunting accident near White Haven on the opening day of the 1954 season.

Mrs. Dorothy J. Deily, Weaversville, is seeking the damages from James E. Lambert, Allentown RD 4, and his father, Edward Lambert.

Defendants

Both defendants were members of a hunting party in which Robert W. Deily, 33-year-old father of two children, was allegedly shot by the younger Lambert, then 16 years old.

The minor is charged with negligence in firing the 32 caliber shot which killed Deily, and his father is also a defendant because the son was hunting under his supervision and control.

The younger Lambert pleaded guilty in Carbon County Court on Dec. 10, 1954, to the charge of "shooting at and killing a human being in mistake for a deer."

In addition to being given a two years suspended jail term, the youth was ordered to pay the personal representative of the dead man $700 and the costs of prosecution.

Progress Reported In Program

BANGOR—Further progress in the Religion in American Life program was reported during the luncheon meeting of the Ministerial Association of Bangor and vicinity at the Colonial Hotel Tuesday. An all-out effort is planned for next year, possibly beginning in September.

Meanwhile, it was noted that the television program, "Wide, Wide World," will devote its entire 90 minutes on Sunday, Nov. 25, from 4 to 5:30 p.m., to the religion in American life story. Religious faith in America and its important role in the development and growth of the nation will be portrayed live.

Arrangements were completed for the community Thanksgiving Day worship Thursday. The service, starting at 9 a.m., will be held at the First United Evangelical Church. The Rev. Henry C. Wray, pastor of Mackey Memorial Baptist Church, will be the speaker. The Revs. A. M. Herman, Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church cleric, and B. P. Gieske, host pastor, will assist in the service.

Announcement

It was announced that the Rev. Herman will attend one day of the three-day interdenominational pastors' conference at Harrisburg and report on it at the next meeting. The Rev. William E. Dennis, ministerium president, was named to represent the organization at a luncheon meeting of ministerium association presidents of Lehigh and Northampton Counties at the Americus Hotel, Allentown, November 27.

Rev. Stewart Bortner reported on leadership training, observing that material is at hand and that he will continue to outline a program which may be introduced in the spring. Arrangements for the election of officers at the December session were initiated with the appointment of a nominating committee headed by the Rev. W. L. Hackman.

East Borough Merchants Make Plans

MEMBERS OF the East Stroudsburg Merchants Association last night agreed to hold a special meeting Monday night to discuss Christmas lighting and the possibility of full community cooperation in the erection of the lights.

The merchants, meeting at Red Top Tavern, are seeking to determine how residents feel about sharing in the cost of erecting the lights this season.

Funds

Last Summer, the merchants took the funds allocated for the Christmas lighting and donated it to the East Stroudsburg Playground committee.

Monday's special session will be held at 7:30 p. m. at Seymour Shoe Store.

The merchants also created a special committee to inaugurate a clean up our streets program. Members are Leon Zacher and Albert Koster.

Last Rites Held For Rev. Stuart

CORNING, N. Y.—Funeral services were held here yesterday for the Rev. Elmer J. Stuart, 79, dean of the Corning clergy and a pulpit supply at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church on several occasions.

Dr. Stuart, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church in Corning, died Sunday after a long illness.

Dr. Stuart had been moderator of the Steuben-Elmira Presbytery, stated clerk and treasurer of the same organization, a director of Auburn Seminary, and served on the Judicial Commission of the Presbyterian Synod of New York. In 1940, he was elected moderator of that synod.

Occasions

On three occasions, he served as commissioner to the General Assembly from the Steuben-Elmira Presbytery.

Dr. Stuart was the father of a daughter, Mrs. John Charles Smith, 714 Scott St., Stroudsburg, and a son, Elmer Maurice Stuart, Corning. He is also survived by four grandchildren, Airman Vernon Stuart with the Air Force in Okinawa; Miss Vera Mary Stuart, Corning; Carl Smith and Margaret Ann Smith, Stroudsburg.

Kemp Kadets Gain Award

GEORGE N. Kemp Post, American Legion drum and bugle corps, won two second prizes in Lehighton parade competitions last Saturday.

James Sheeley, Kemp Kadets drum major, said last night that official word has been received that the corps won second awards in the Veterans' Day parade there Saturday afternoon and in the "Mummers' Parade" in Lehighton that night.

First place awards went, in both cases, to the Bangor post corps, Sheeley said.

50 Children Attend Meeting

BANGOR — Some 50 children attended the regular Tues. evening entertainment held in the social rooms of the Trinity Lutheran Church, Isaiah Resh acted as master of ceremonies, and presented Warren Kressler who did feats of magic.

A series of three films were also included in the program.

East Stroudsburg Girl, Husband Fear Russian Intervention Could Start Third World War

storm all around Joe and Carolyn and the thousands of other civilian "aliens" in Egypt. When it first became clear that the threat of an overlapping war was eminent, TWA drew up its own plans to evacuate personnel and their families. But the plan had no chance to go into its working stage. Full-scale warfare broke out.

The evacuation project was then assumed entirely by the U. S. Embassy in Cairo. To move civilians from that city and its suburbs, the Embassy set up a motor convoy, appointed "wardens" and carried out its instructions almost like a military operation.

The Stonskas began their journey from Cairo on Nov. 1. It was to be a 100-mile-trip constantly bedeviled by the possible disaster of ground-air fighting on either side of them. The convoy moved on its slow, tortuous route to Alexandria, the major seaport other than Cairo in the Middle East.

The road to Alexandria is lined and dotted with Egyptian military installations. Throughout the journey, planes appeared suddenly overhead and dived toward the military sites in strafing operations. None of the planes ever came close to the civilian convoy. But each time they appeared, the convoy was forced to stop.

In the harbor at Alexandria the Mediterranean Sixth Fleet, U. S. Navy had already moved in ships loaded with Marines. They were there purely as a "protective" measure — just in case the Embassy had any trouble getting its convoy out of the country's desert regions.

If there were any great heroes in the story of the evacuation, Joe and Carolyn agreed, it would have to be the Marines and the men on board the Navy ship which took them aboard at Alexandria. When the civilians got there, they were welcomed with warmth, friendliness and kindness unparalleled in the most exclusive hotel in the world.

Praise

"The men on our ship — "The Fort Snelling", an LSD (Landing Ship Dock) — were magnificent," Carolyn said. "They gave up their bunks for us. They baby - sat by the hours. They loaded the kids down with toys and candy and did everything they could humanly do for us. They couldn't have been more wonderful."

"The Fort Snelling" stayed in Alexandria harbor that night. But if any of the civilians had hoped for a quiet night, they were disappointed. There were four minor "raids." The next morning two Egyptian gunboats maneuvered themselves into the harbor and took up stations between the American ships. Then the Egyptian ships began lobbing their ack-ack (anti-aircraft fire) at darting planes overhead, using the U. S. ships as "cover" because they knew the aircraft could not fire back for fear they might hit a U. S. ship.

The ship left Alexandria at 5 p.m. that night when Egyptian barges and boats which had been blocking the harbor outlet were moved to allow it to leave. The ship moved up through the blue, and oddly-peaceful, Mediterranean to the island of Crete. There the Stonskas family transferred to a Military Transport Service ship called "Gen. Alexander M. Patch" which is operated by civilian personnel.

The contrast between the two ships was remarkable, Joe said — but it was possible, he thought, that they had been "spoiled" by the wonderful attitude and treatment they had gotten from the military men on the "Snelling." On the "Patch" things were pretty much "hurry up" and strict routine — half an hour to eat, feeding the children at 5 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. and sticking to the straight regiment set down for all on board.

Nearly everyone on board the ship drew an extra breath of relief when it reached Naples. This was the last leg of the trip home. Joe and Carolyn and Joe Jr. (who will be three in February) and Jacquelyn, who is one, spent six days in Naples and they loved almost every minute of it.

Flying

They made the last miles of their trip home by air — "Good old TWA" was right on the ball, Joe said.

Looking back on Egypt and the Middle East crisis, Joe thinks that if United Nations police forces are allowed to enter in an orderly fashion, the chance for a settlement of the seething situation is good.

Right now the big "If" rests basically with Russia — and an unpredictable dictator named Gamal Nasser. If Nasser accepts Russian "voluntary" aid and presses for Soviet troops to help him, the Middle East crisis seems destined to catapult the world into a whole new era of full-scale, eruptive war, he said.

Last night Joe and Carolyn Stonakas were perfectly willing to put the acrid smell of the Middle East's local war behind them for the time being.

They were "home" at 280 Prospect St. in East Stroudsburg with the few belongings they had been able to evacuate with them piled neatly at the foot of the stairs in the front hallway. "Grandpa" — Dr. Bill Toewe — was lavishing a grandfather's indulgent affection on the two younger Stonskas. And Bea — Carolyn's mother—smiling broadly every step of the way, was getting ready for dinner and keeping one eye on the friendly, open-eyed charms of one-year-old Jackie.

Coming home from an isolated pinpoint of war, Joe and Carolyn could still say that they had "no regrets." Except for worry about their children, they had nothing to say against the Middle East.

At 280 Prospect, in the middle of a peaceful world all their own, the Toewes and the Stonskas could face the ordinary disorders of the day — the change of diapers, the erring ear-ring that somehow got yanked from "Mommy's" hand to Jackie's and nearly disappeared in Jackie's mouth before it was retrieved.

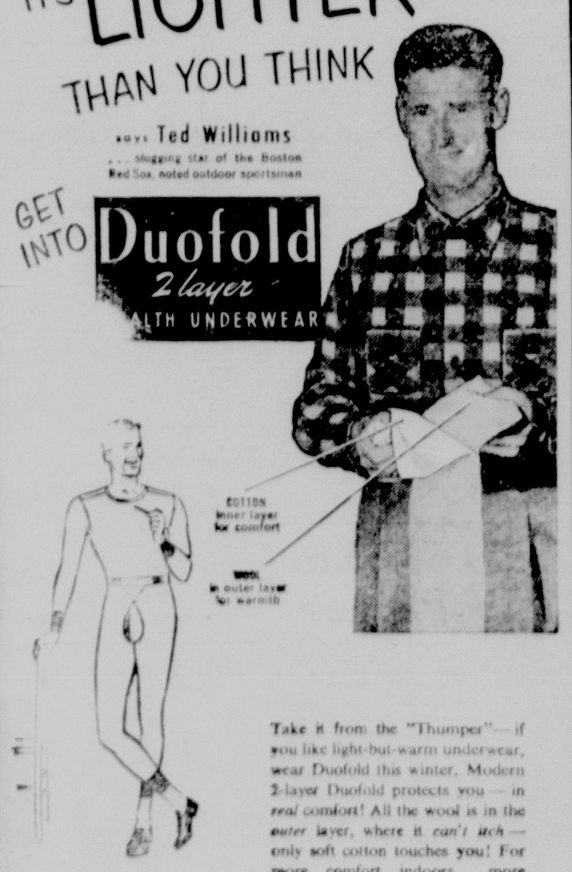

Last night the Middle East was a long, long way across the world. Yet — for two weeks — to the Toewes, at least, it had been a part of their own front door.

Civilian Absentee Ballot Proposal To Come Before Legislation Again

To thousands of Pennsylvanians who were unable to vote in last week's election through no fault of their own, the session of the Legislature convening in January will be an important one.

Before it will be a proposed constitutional amendment to permit absentee voting. The resolution was approved by the 1955 session. If it is approved in the same form by the 1957 session, it then will go before the voters.

Absentee voting in this State by those in the armed forces and by hosital veterans is now permitted. The proposed amendment would empower the Legislature to expand the vote in any manner it sees fit.

In most States those who are chronically ill and unable to be taken to the polls, and those who may be out of the district on election day, are permitted to use the absentee ballot. The number of persons affected is large and growing, particularly among the elderly who go South for the winter and depart just before election.

The civilian absentee ballot is permitted in all but six States now—Alabama, Louisiana, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and Mississippi. It has worked well, and some of the States have overcome in large measure one difficulty inherent in the system now in use in this State with respect to service personnel ballots. That is the delay in determining the result.

The time lag necessary in having ballots returned from distant overseas points would not prevail with respect to civilian ballots, except in a small minority of cases and provision might well be made to have the absentee votes tabulated along with the regular count. That is a matter for future legislative consideration, and has nothing to do with the needed amendment coming up next year.

U. S. Shouldn't Underrate Russia Nor Ignore Her Developing Skills

There's a tendency in this country to publicize the points of difference between the United States and Russia. We make much of those areas in which we excel.

That's natural enough.

We have good reason to boast about our way of life. We can glory in the fact that living conditions in America are the best in the world, and that working men and women participate in the nation's wealth and prosperity to a degree not matched in any other land.

However, even while we indulge in these comparisons, we dare not underrate Russia. It would be foolish to ignore the areas in which the Reds are developing strength and skill.

An example which illustrates the point are the following paragraphs from a news story release last week. They read:

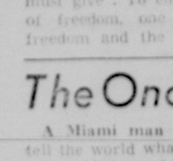

"The Russians have a jet airliner that flies from Moscow to Peking, China, in 11½ hours — a distance of 4,000 miles.

"The liner's actual flying time is eight hours and 20 minutes."

This is the type of information about Russia which we need to know before we talk too glibly of her position in the family of nations.

George Sokolsky Says...

DeMille's Film Masterpiece Contributes To Righteous Living, Justice, Liberty

The genius of Cecil B. deMille produced the panorama "The Ten Commandments," which those who enjoy motion pictures will revel in. But there is much more to this picture than great stars and amazing photography. Principally this is a work of dedication to the cause of human freedom.

And beyond the artificialities of the cinema, designed to enliven the interest and produce good theater, is the philosophic approach of a man who himself has fought a one-man battle for truth and freedom. For let it not be forgotten that it was Cecil B. deMille, person of position and wealth, who was fired out of radio because he would not contribute one dollar to a cause which he believed to be a limitation upon his freedom of thought and action.

Liberty is only as precious as one is willing to make sacrifices for it. Liberty has not been come by easily; it can be lost in the twinkling of an eye. Moses, the prince of Egypt, sacrifices himself and becomes a slave with the object of becoming free. This is not a paradox; it is the whole of human history, for to receive, we must give. To enjoy the benefits of freedom, one must win his freedom and the cost can be in human blood, as it is today in Hungary.

The Natural Law, the law of life revealed to man by God, came to our civilization through Moses. This law of life has been summarized in the Ten Commandments upon which is based our civilization. Beyond the Ten Commandments is savagery. It is not a question of sect or religious creed. It is not a question of affiliation. It is a question of an unchangeable guide as to right and wrong. It serves not only as a guide and a measure but as a limitation, an inhibition upon the lusts of man who, created in the image of God, nevertheless possesses the quality of free will to do good and to do evil.

In the portrayal of this, Cecil B. deMille permits his genius free flow, for there is the contrast of the wild bacchanalia before the Golden Calf, the roar of licentiousness, the cult of sin, the full rein to total abasement and the man who hears the Natural Law, walking alone, always alone, struggling with himself, his own human instincts, even to express himself in disgust and in anger, but always limited by the rules of moral living which forbid man setting himself up as a god and demanding for himself worship and obedience.

I have read many reviews of this picture, "The Ten Commandments," and they mostly speak of the marvels of photography. Of this I am no judge. I assume that photographers know how to take pictures and that actors can be directed to act. But what seemed to me very important was that for many who believe that they know and understand the Bible, this may be their first opportunity to see one of the greatest personalities in the Bible as a human being with all the frailties and strength of a human being.

When one has lived three hours with Cecil B. deMille's Moses, he will know the man, Moses, know him from birth to death, know him as he passes from prince to slave to leader of men to one of the greatest moral teachers in human history. And he will love Moses as Moses loved all men.

Even more, he will understand his own times better, for what is so troublesome in our times is that a large part of the human race has reverted to slavery and another part of the human race has reverted to licentiousness and the free are frightened. And those who labor for liberty and for the moral law walk alone as Moses walked through the Sinai Desert alone, struggling against sand and rock and wind but knowing always that sooner or later, if he lived, he would find the Shepherd and he would not want. It has been an endless travail for the human race to rise out of the mud pits—only some have risen.

Cecil B. deMille is of the theater and his picture will be sold to the public as entertainment. But he is also a prophet and his picture will be remembered as a contribution to righteous living and to justice and liberty.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

A Miami man who wanted to tell the world what a fine wife he had paid for a big billboard advertisement reading: "To a wonderful wife who has borne with me for 20 years." This was a grand gesture. But it has made it tough for millions of husbands whose mates have read about it and have been indicating they would appreciate a similar testimonial.

We think this can result in a rash of domestic advertising on billboards, in electric signs and otherwise, and are glad to offer some for tributes.

No. I

Twinkle, twinkle bride of mine,
Up there in a flashing sign.
In the Neon lights above . . .
Listen, baby, THAT is LOVE!

No. II

My missus is the tops. I figger—
And wish this billboard could be bigger.

No. III

My wife is such a special prize
Her assets I would advertise;
Top products are proclaimed in lights
Why not a wife who scales the heights?

IV

(For an ad high above Broadway)

To my wife, a dream of dreams,
Lost among the shaving creams,
Hemmed about by soups and cukes,
Frozen meats and filter smokes,
I deplore your eclipse, honey;
Still this ain't bad for the money.

No. V

Beers, ointments, breakfast foods,
Tonics, lip rouge, duds for dudes,
Automobiles, hearing-aids,
TV sets and razor blades,
Vodka, Scotch and liver pills,
Girdle creams and pickles (Dill's),
'Lectric shavers, packaged grub,
Wonder soaps (Accept no Sub'),
Dentifrices and cigars,
Fifty-seven's choicest cars. . .
Vital, say you, in my life?
Gangway, all and MEET THE WIFE!

How about a wife taking billboard space to praise the old man? For instance:

On this billboard I declare
I've a man beyond compare;
Costly stuff, but bliss is bliss . .
(He will get the BILL FOR THIS.)

Judy Holliday, Anito Ekberg or one of the Gabor sisters as Eve. . . . New York is making a drive against "gyp" auto-driving schools. . . It's been extra slow getting around to it, although a lot of "graduates" have broken records between the diploma and the first telegraph post. . . Have you noticed that in many 1957 auto models the panels, which made rear tire removals so difficult, have vanished? . . . A boyhood pal of ours, Bill Foran, for years a New Haven Road freight official, would get a great kick, had he lived, to see his daughter, Kathryn, now in the Massachusets State House as the first lady. . . . Foster Furcola, the new governor, met her while he was a student at Yale. . . The romance was swift and she makes a mighty charming first lady.

Dear Mr. Editor:

In regard to Veterans Day, I was surprised to see just three flags on Main St. today. I talked to someone about it and the answer was that until they make it a holiday, the people will forget.

Did our boys have a holiday when they were fighting for us and our homes over there. No! I think it would be a very good idea for some of us to visit the boys in the hospitals and see what I have seen.

Some who will never come out to their homes and loved ones. I cannot understand how we can forget so soon. We have our own Stroudsburg area boys up at Wilkes-Barre VA Hospital right now and the way the world is today we should be very proud to show our lovely flag at all times.

Yours truly,
Muriel Hughes

Freer Rules For Eating The More Awkward Foods

The arts of eating the oyster, the slippery ear of corn, the bounty of Fall harvest—an apple, barbecued spare ribs, pie la mode. These are accomplishments at which men out-shine the ladies. Refinements in lipstick have made it not only kiss-proof but roasting-ear proof, so diversified make-up is no longer the feminine problem.

Could it be that women find these foods "awkward" to eat, mainly because such delicacies don't seem delicate enough? That it makes the girls look hungrier than they are happy to admit? That having less practice at such provender than the menfolks, hardly a girl can be found who knows what to do with a juicy clam twitching away in the half-shell?

Some of these foods—oysters, for one—appear to have intentions other than providing nourishment. When an artichoke, clam or mussel goes to enough trouble to indicate reluctance of this kind, I've always reached for more approachable edibles. If an oyster considers its first line of business to be pearl making, I've felt no compulsion to whet an oyster knife.

This is no proper attitude.

Comes a day when somebody puts a plate of raw and writhing sea critters before you. Or there is fine lobster definantly betting you don't know what to do with the nutcracker, or whether you eat shrimp with fingers or fork—or sometimes both. Or how a spoon figures in spaghetti.

There is a two-page stamp of approval for such dilemmas, called "Complete Etiquette of Eating Awkward Foods" featured in the November issue of that magazine noted for such amiable stamps. The news is better than we have any right to hope for. If there is more gravy than roast, it's all right to break a biscuit and delicately dunk same. Do not give chase, just sop as self-confidently as you please. Fried eggs, unless of unsunny character, sometimes lend themselves to similar techniques. Pass the hot rolls friend. It says right here that pursuit is approved. Spareribs—right in the fingers, it says, and plenty of paper napkins.

Corn on the cob should disappear at about the rate of two or three rows at a time. I never counted rows, nor could I always make the little holders stay put in the cob. But eating corn is an art that comes natural to a Midwesterner, even if shellfish technique came as a rude shock later on.

What say we have a little snack? We don't care if some foods are awkward, not even if we seem real hungry. Who's looking?

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

In Florence, Publisher Howard Greenfield told a companion, "I saw the darndest thing from the train window this morning just outside Rome: A lot of actors from 'War and Peace' playing baseball."

"That's not unusual," countered the other. "With so many Americans here now, you're likely to see a ball game in progress most any place in Italy."

"Not like this one," insisted Greenfield. "Napoleon was playing third base."

In Princeton, the University Book Store sold so many books about birds in the past year, the management decided to add a sideline: An Audubon Bird Caller. It has delighted the customers, too—all but one, that is, who brought it back in a huff, reporting bitterly, "I have called birds with this blasted thing now for three days straight—and the only answers I got back were from squirrels!"

Bible Thought

Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed,—II Timothy 2:15.

The automobiles and houses we build will last five, ten, fifty years, but our spiritual home and memory will last for endless eternities. May we never be ashamed.

And if he sin against thee seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent, thou shalt forgive him.—Luke 17:4.

A good rule is to do to others as we would like to be treated.

Hall Wants Cabinet Post; Two Possibilities Seen

Washington, Nov. 14 — Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall has a significant aspiration.

He wants a Cabinet job.

First preference of the hefty New Yorker is Attorney General; second, Postmaster General.

Changes are in prospect in both positions.

Attorney General Brownell is thinking of returning to private law practice. The outlook for a Supreme Court appointment is not particularly bright; so Brownell, who is not wealthy, plans to quit the Justice Department.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield is also getting out. He will return for a while after he recovers from his throat operation, but the Michigander is not remaining in the Cabinet very long.

Hall also has his eye on either a senatorship or governorship of New York. Both come up for election in 1958.

Governor Averell Harriman is certain to seek a second term as the Democratic standard-bearer. Senator Irving Ives, R., has not been in the best of health, and whether he seeks a third term in 1958 depends on his condition and the political outlook then.

As a Cabinet member, Hall would be in a better position to run for Governor or Senator than as National Chairman.

GOP Politicals — The Republicans now actually have a majority in the Senate, and should a special session be called, they could take control of the chamber if they wanted to. This GOP majority is due to the election of former Senator J. Sherman Cooper, Ky., and Senator Chapman Revercomb (W.Va.) to seats held by Democrats of unexpired terms. Both Cooper and Revercomb are now on the congressional payroll as senators, and if the chamber convenes, they will give the Republicans a 49 to 47 majority.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., is slated for Chairman of the Senate Republican conference. He will replace Senator Eugene Millikin, Colo., who is retiring because of ill health. As head of the conference, Saltonstall will relinquish his party position as Whip. Leading aspirants for that are Senators Styles Bridges (N.H.) and Prescott Bush (Conn.) . . . Ancher Nelson, who gave up being Rural Electric Administrator to make an unsuccess try for Governor of Minnesota, will be named to a top Agriculture Department place. Important positions also will definitely be offered to former Interior Secretary Douglas McKay and Governor Arthur Langlie (Wash.), who ran for the Senate, but didn't make it.

Demo Politicals — Since Governor Frank Lausche's election to the Senate, the Ohioan has had three long-distance phone calls from White House assistant Sherman Adams. Lausche is telling friends Adams urged him to line up with the Republicans for control of the next Senate. Close friends of Lausche credit him with having judicial ambitions. They say he hopes eventually to be named to the federal bench. Senator Estes Kefauver still owes $40,000 from his unsuccessful pre-convention primary races. The Tennessean claims the National Committee promised to pay these debts when he was nominated for Vice President. But no money has been forthcoming. This painful situation is related in a letter by L. M. Polan, a leading Kefauver fund-raiser, as follows: "Arrangements made with the National Committee have not been carried out. I am certain none of us want to see Estes left with a debt . . . It is essential this matter be attended to at your earliest convenience. It is unfinished business which eb cleared up."

Voice Goes On 24-Hour Schedule

By Central Press

WASHINGTON — The Voice of America has discovered the people behind the Iron Curtain are still unaware of the extent of the revolt in Hungary and Poland. Communist restrictions on reporting news kept people of one area from being encouraged by news of uprisings elsewhere. So the Voice has gone on an around-the-clock schedule to present the full facts in 14 foreign languages.

Under the Voice's regular schedule, listeners in Eastern Europe hear live broadcasts from about 6 p.m. until midnight, local times. These programs are recorded at the Voice's overseas relay bases and repeated at intervals during the following 18 hours. The new schedule, which started Oct. 26, provides live programs 24 hours a day.

The Voice staff members—writers, editors, announcers, translators and producers—are working 16 to 20 hours a day to produce the shows. They are sending out 39 news programs.

All the programs, including those regularly scheduled, will be straight news and reports on world editorial reaction. The total of 67 daily broadcasts will be in Russian, Lithuanian, Estonian, Georgian, Armenian, Ukrainian, Latvian, Polish, Bulgarian, Hungarian, Czech, Slovak, Romanian and Albanian.

The Communists governments have released meager reports on the uprisings but the Voice intends the people in the other satellite countries and Russia will know how widespread is the courage of Poland and Hungary.

It's impossible now for a Philadelphia policeman to be broke. A new rule, set up by the commissioner, requires every cop to carry a dime at all times—in case he needs to make a phone call.

College Comes First To Athletes

By Jim Riley

Sometimes it's difficult to understand how the other half lives.

This difficulty was apparently as common to Charley Gelbert, baseball coach at Lafayette College, as it is to many other folks.

Charley, no stranger to this area, unfolded this yarn to Jerry Stulgaitis, well known teacher at Stroudsburg High, while the pair was hunting on the latter's farm near Snydersville last Saturday.

Everyone knows Gelbert as the guy who went straight from college to a triple "A" farm club of the St. Louis Cardinals. He passed on to the Boston Red Sox and another major league club or two, but he never played in the lower minor leagues.

Charley, one of the standout shortstops in history, had his career curtailed when he was shot in the foot while hunting.

But, the real story started last Summer when the Brooklyn Dodgers hailed Gelbert, a scout for the National League champions, and asked him to finish out the season as manager of their floundering Hornell, N. Y. entry in the class "D" Pony League.

Charley, who became coach at Lafayette shortly after leaving the big time, reluctantly took the job. But, he's not sorry.

Gelbert reportedly learned a lesson he will never forget.

Since he had never played class "D" ball in his life, the Hornell pilot found the long hours of travel and the lack of sleep tough medicine—both mentally and physically. He marvelled at the manner in which the young players could stand the punishment.

He also found that he had learned two lessons, one of which was the fact that no college team, regardless of its ability, could compare with a class "D" club. There may be a few outstanding college performers, but not enough to throw the balance in favor of the amateur contingents.

Charley also found that he had been passing out pearls of wisdom for years, without actually recognizing the fact.

The Lafayette coach is a much sought-after speaker and had always made it a point to stress the importance of a college education for high school graduates, who in turn are dreaming of a career in major league baseball.

But, last Summer's experience has made this bit of reasoning even more important to Gelbert, who in turn is now making it even more important to young athletes.

The baseball prospect who skips college actually makes the drive to the top even more tough that the almost impossible task it is at best.

When you next hear Gelbert speak, remember that here's one guy who knows what he's talking about.

High Bridge Resident Describes Alleged Ride In Craft Piloted By Men From Space

is little or no effort to embellish his own ordinary language. Like this:

Invitation

"They invited me into the ship. There was no door as we know and think of a door. There were no hinges, no doors, no seams in the ship. I don't know how to explain it exactly, except that it was ... an opening that opened up.

"The ship was about 10 feet high ... about 12 to 15 feet in diameter. ... I got inside, there was no ... of movement of any kind—... were moving.

... asked to look out one of the ...holes in the craft. I saw what ... either Earth or Venus. Then ... they' projected an image of Venus in front of me (later he explains that there was no screen and no projector) and it had animals and vehicles similar to ours except that there were no wheels. They explained that the vehicles moved with the same power used in the space craft — anti-gravitational power, moving along only two or three feet above the ground.

"I'd describe it as heaven, as compared to the Earth as we know it.

"I'd say I was up around 15 to 20 minutes in this craft."

It is in this area of his story that Menger meets with the most skepticism. Yet he has told the story repeatedly, without any noticeable variation. He has been confronted by experts on a late-night radio panel discussion and the "experts" have failed to jostle his recurrent account of the events.

Typical of the skeptic's attitude is this one: Why, if, as Menger says, the people from space want him to enlighten the Earth about them, have they not allowed Menger to bring back some tangible evidence from his short sojourn in space.

This is one question Menger has not answered yet. But he has met the skepticism with an added fillip of mystery which, if founded on actual knowledge he has gained from the "space craft," could make the Menger Story one of the most remarkable of the century.

He has been warned, Menger says, not to tell anything he knows about the craft or their people. He says:

"Some of these things they've taught me, I wouldn't dare tell anyone. If it got in Russia's hands, that would be it. These things would be dangerous in the hands of any enemy."

Label

Labeled "Top Secret" by the outer-space informants, he says, is the secret of the power which propels (or anti-propels) their vehicles. The "secret," he says, is actually a very simple one—but Earth's inhabitants have not found it yet. When they do, an ordinary mechanic with no special knowledge of physics could build one, however, he says.

Of one thing he is most positive. The "power" used has nothing to do with "atomic" power. Menger—and, presumably, all the inhabitants of other planets—considers "atomic power" an "unnatural power" which can only lead to destruction.

This theme of "warning to the Earth" returns again and again in Menger's account of his discussions with the men from space. It is a theme which one may also find liberally interlarded in books by Adamski, also.

It is, as a mater of fact, one of the constant themes ofthe tremendous literature created during the past half-century which is lumped, rather indiscriminately under the general title of "science-fiction."

But is "science-fiction" really what its name implies?

"Science-fiction" predicted atomic power nearly a half-century before it came into being. It visualized planes flying faster than sound before supersonic travel was more than a maniacal echo in the back of the scientific brain. It has predicted nearly all of the "scientific" marvels of our current age and it has anticipated our destructive powers by decades.

There is still another pertinent factor in any story of Howard Menger's contacts with the Universe.

It has nothing to do with Mars or Venus. It is part of the story of one man's life on the planet Earth. For Menger's recent experience has not been his only one. And it has come at an hour of terrible despair for both Menger and Rose, his wife.

(The third installment of the series will be featured tomorrow).

Toss-Toss-Toss All Night Long?

Today's worries—hurried meals—too much food—drink or tobacco can quickly create a miserable stomach acid condition, bringing on acid indigestion—gas — heartburn — jittery, nerve-wracking days and restless, sleepless nights.

Hour after hour you toss and turn until finally you feel forced to take a sleeping pill to get a few hours of troubled sleep.

Why continue? Why not do as thousands do? Get a small bottle of NEUTRACID—the prescription of a well-known physician. Dissolve a teaspoonful in a glass of water—being liquid, it goes right to work Neutralizing the excess acid—to sweeten and calm the stomach and help you get a sound, natural sleep.

Take good advice—start taking NEUTRACID tonight. Forget sleeping pills and see how much good safe, effective NEUTRACID will bring you.

You can get NEUTRACID at any good drug store.

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING of building to be erected at Brodheadsville to house a new branch of Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. Work was started yesterday and is expected to be completed before May 1.

Ground Broken For Branch Of Bank At Brodheadsville

GROUND WAS BROKEN yesterday for a new $50,000 building to house the new branch bank which the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. will establish at Brodheadsville.

Of dressed native stone construction, the building will be erected at the intersection of Routes 115 and 209. The general contractor is Charles L. Frank, Stroudsburg.

Business

Frank B. Michaels, bank president, said the new branch is expected to be open for business by the first of May, 1957. It will be a full banking operation on a five and one-half days per week basis.

Safe deposit boxes will be installed to serve the patrons, who will be drawn from a wide area extending out from Brodheadsvilyle.

Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. established a similar branch operation in Barrett Township several years ago.

Apply For License

RAYMOND FERNANDEZ and Mildred J. Kreso, both of Yonkers, N. Y., applied for license to marry yesterday at the office of N. Henry Fenner, Monroe county prothonotary and clerk of courts.

Equipment To Be Discussed

NEWFOUNDLAND — Civil Defense equipment available for fire companies will be the topic for discussion at the Dec. 4 meeting of Greene-Dreher Fire Association.

Meeting this week in the fire hall here, the company discussed the approved one-and-one-half mill levy for fire purposes to which Greene Township voters gave the nod at the polls by a 231 - 58 count.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pensyl of Portland were Saturday night guests of the formers brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pensyl of Bray Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Landon have moved into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Johnson of Gladstone Street. They are former residents of Mt. Bethel.

The Teen-Age variety club of the eighth grade of the East Bangor School met on Friday at the school. Bernard Reimer, president was in charge. Thomas DePue, secretary, submitted his report and the treasurer Fred Baker gave his report. Jeffrey Parson stated that he will try to publish the next newspaper before the Thanksgiving holiday. Cynthia Bray reported that Friday was the deadline for the book money this month. A volunteer program was held. Beverly Slutter and Ronald Tucker will be on the program committee for this week.

Adventists Plan Week Of Prayer

SATURDAY WILL mark the opening of a special week of prayer for members of the Seventh-day Adventist church, with meetings each day at 7:45 in their church on Second St.

O. A. Botimer, Publishing Department Secretary of the East Pennsylvania Conference of Adventists, will be the speaker at the first special service Saturday morning. At 7:15 p.m. on the same day the film "Summons at Midnight" will be shown.

The week will be observed by Adventist churches all over the world. Members will make their annual "sacrifice" offering on Saturday, Nov. 24, at the close of the special week.

Cases

In some cases this consists of an entire week's wages, in others the income for one day, or as much as the individual desires to give.

William R. Bornstein, local pastor, stated that any friends of the church who wish to attend the special prayer services will be welcome.

The first American aviator shot down in World War I was H. Clyde Balsey of the Lafayette Escadrille in 1916.

Cast Complete For Minstrel

HARRY BARTHOLOMEW, one of the best known minstrel men in Monroe County, will serve as interlocutor at the Varsity "S" Club Minstrel Show to be staged at Stroudsburg High School on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 23 and 24.

All proceeds will go directly to the club which supports athletics and athletes at Stroudsburg High School.

Percy Whitman, Harvey Burris, James Shafter, Bill Gorton, James Somers and James Sheeley will fill the roles of end men.

Joseph Whalen, WYPO announced, is director of the show and reports satisfactory progress to date.

In addition to the regular minstrel, various novelty acts will also be presented throughout the show.

An important dress rehearsal will be held at the high school this Sunday, at 2:30 p.m.

Among the cast is at least one personality from every singing organization in the Stroudsburgs.

C. H. Dietrich Services Held

BANGOR — Funeral services for Charles H. Dietrich, among the pioneer auto dealers of the area were held Tuesday afternoon at the Stoddard Funeral Home. A former councilman and school director, Mr. Dietrich died Friday at St. Luke's Hospital. His residence was at 703 Snyder St.

The Rev. W. L. Hackman, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated in the service, assisted by the Rev. Dr. C. W. Kitto, Pen Argyl. Interment was in St. John's Cemetery. Charles, Kermit and Donaldson Dietrich, Charles Klinck, William Ludlow and Conrad Martin were the pallbearers.

Organization Of Troop Discussed

BANGOR — Organization of a Boy Scout Troop was discussed during a meeting at the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church Tuesday. Melvin Blake was in charge of the session. With more than eight members for such a troop already signed, formation appears assured.

A second meeting was slated for Tuesday, Nov. 27, to complete plans. A scout leader of the Delaware Valley Council is expected to attend the coming session.

U.S. Building Won't Work

TOKYO, Nov. 14 (AP) — The streamlined American type building that became so popular in Japan after the war just won't work in this country, says Takenaka Komuten Co., a leading construction firm.

The company says Japan may have to go back to its old way of building. It reports the streamlined U. S.-style building cracks, swells, bulges and rusts in Japan's wet climate.

Music Club Hears Talk By Corson

"The simple things in music are the great things," Dr. Donald B. Corson told members of the Music Study Club at their meeting on Tuesday night in the Stroud Community House in his talk on "Toward a Better Understanding of Music."

However, appreciation of symphony music is often heightened by a knowledge of the lives of the composers and the meaning of the themes and variations. Playing recordings of the first movement of "The Unfinished Symphony" by Franz Schubert, and the second Movement of "Surprise Symphony" by Hayden, he illustrated the themes on the piano and brought out significant details of the lives of the composers.

Dr. Corson is head of the music department at State Teachers College, and is commentator and author of "Adventures in Music" radio series broadcast over WVPO.

Mrs. Merlin Rutt was in charge of the program which also featured special solos and music by the sextette. Mrs. John McConnell sang the contralto solo, "Stilling the Tempest", by Michael Watson with Mrs. Rutt as accompanist. The club sextette under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Bender Jr., sang "Invocation" by Mana-Zucca, and the spiritual, "O Didn't It Rain," arranged by H. T. Burleigh.

Members of the sextette are Alberta Yutz and Lila Mae Heller, sopranos; Frances Everitt and Susan Warner, second sopranos; Marjorie Barnes and Ruth Cyphers, altos.

Mrs. John Fisher gave a resume of the hymn-of-the-month, "O Worship the King, All Glorious Above" by Sir Robert Drake.

MRS. R. FRANKLIN GRAY, the former Miss Sonia J. Godshalk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul I. Godshalk of Mount Bethel, who was married on Saturday at the home of Rev. John Early. A reception was held at Mt. Bethel Inn before the couple left for a trip to Canada. Mr. Gray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gray of Delaware, N.J. They were attended by Miss Helen Weidman and Victor Rauscher, both of Mt. Bethel. (Lens Art)

Tom Waring Entertains At GOP Victory

The victory party of the Monroe County Council of Republican Women was held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Foster Minnich, president, while hailing the victory at the polls this month, warned that a continued interest in good government and support between elections was equally important.

Tom Waring, guest speaker, also urged continued interest in political affairs and a constant effort to interest other women in the issues before presenting his "Bag of Songs" both light and serious which he has composed over the years.

A tea followed the program.

Circle Four Tonight

Circle Four of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will meet tonight at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Stine, with an auction sale and refreshments following the meeting.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

At least no one lacked for a topic of conversation yesterday and in every group you passed you could hear something about "flying saucers." After all the controversies of elections, world tensions, and thru-ways, pro and con, Rady's story on the unidentified flying object at High Bridge was just what the doctor ordered.

While everybody had an opinion to offer, they were able to do it amicably and without undue tension, and the discussions opened up interesting by-ways into telepathy in general, personal experiences in particular, and a host of inexplicable manifestations.

The ambition of my life would be fulfilled if ever the linotype men would vie with each other as to who was to set the story. Never yet have I seen them scrambling to be the first to see what the bride wore—unless of course it was their own daughter, and then they already knew. Well, knew how much it cost, anyway.

Sorry I've nothing to offer to compete with UFO's. Would you settle for the Northern Lights display the other night? The stork that presided over a baby shower? The information that you're supposed to bring your own table service to the covered dish supper?

You wouldn't? Well, go on and re-read the second installment then, and so will I.

Brownies Help In Community Service Projects

Brownies of Troop 31, East Stroudsburg distributed TB Posters on Monday as part of their community service, returning later to the home of Mrs. Paul Shaffer, 126 Ridgeway St., to plan for the investiture of new Brownies at their meeting next Monday.

The troop has had an active Fall program, beginning with an outdoor meeting with the Brownie Story at the home of Mrs. Melvin MacElwain, when they outlined plans for the year. They held a pet show for their parents, distributed window stickers for the Red Feather agencies, took advantage of the good weather for a nature hike when they collected leaves and fall curios, making carbon copies for their scrap books; and held a cookout and learned fire building and safety. A Halloween party was held at the Grant Keiper home.

The troop is also selling Girl Scout calendars with Mrs. Howard Kintner as calendar mother.

Pastor Fills In For Speaker At Thank Offering

The Rev. P. N. Wohlsen, D.D., proved his mettle as an impromptu speaker when it was necessary for him to pinch-hit for Miss Elsie Otto, missionary to Liberia, who through a series of delays enroute was unable to fulfill her engagement to address the Lutheran Church Women of St. John's Ev. Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg, Monday at their annual Thank Offering meeting.

Pastor Wohlsen gave a discourse on the physical and religious background of Liberia. He dwelt extensively on Home Missions, a subject in which he is well versed, inasmuch as he has been closely associated with the Bureau of Home Missions of the United Lutheran Church of America.

Mrs. Edward Yost, president of the society, welcomed a large delegation of members of the Missionary Society of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Ralph Bender, Jr., organist of St. John's accompanied Miss Martha Yost in a vocal solo, "Peace." Bonnita Yost presented a piano solo and also accompanied her brother, Billy, in a piano-clarinet duo. Eddie Yost played a trumpet solo and accompanied Billy in a clarinet-trumpet duo.

Hostesses were Mrs. Thomas Knepp, Mrs. G. Leslie Bush, Mrs. Ira Heller, Mrs. John B. Dunkelberger, Mrs. Earl Dennis and Mrs. Freida Riese.

Clearview Library Gets $300 In Books

Clearview Parent-Teachers Association voted $300 to buy books for the school's new library at their meeting this week at the school.

The meeting featured Judge Fred W. Davis, head of the Civil Defense in the county. He urged each school to adopt some sort of civil defense program which could be kept static but ready to be activated quickly. He also stressed the importance of civil defense measures in the home. Each home should have facilities to live completely indoors for five or six days to avoid danger from fall-out.

During the business meeting Principal Ralph Knauf reported a successful Hallowe'en party. Mrs. John Schoonover announced that home rooms attaining 100 per cent PTA membership included those taught by Mrs. Glenn Strunk, Mrs. Russell Kern, Mrs. Norman Dietrick and Miss Florence Bates.

A PTA rummage sale at Muransky's store, East Stroudsburg, was announced for Nov. 15, 16, and 17 by Mrs. Howard Katz. The new stove purchased by the PTA was there for inspection.

A report of the school board meeting, given by Edwin Buck and Mrs. Elwood German, showed that a no-passing zone has now been established for cars traveling south on Route 611 by the new Arlington Heights School.

Attendance prizes were awarded to Mrs. James Thomas' second grade and Mrs. Norman Dietrick's fourth grade. Principal Knauf explained the new report cards which will carry both alphabetical markings and a written discussion season. The marks will relate the child's accomplishments to his ability.

The County Council PTA meeting will be held November 28 at the Analomink School, Mrs. Mary Gearhart announced, and will feature a talk by Mrs. Marcia Bloss, speech therapist, and one on parliamentarian procedure by Edwin Buck.

Edwin Buck, introduced by PTA president, Russell Pritchard, spoke on his objections to the proposed Thru-way. Since the taxpayers' money is paying for the road he has a right to expect the best for his money, he said, and charged that as it now stands, the Thru-way plans have the following weaknesses: the number of left hand turns across traffic necessary when leaving the Thru-way; the 30-foot high dirt embankment through town; the underpass at Broad Street.

Since, he prophesied, the road will be inadequate within 15 years, the town will be left with the embankment and undercuts while traffic is diverted elsewhere.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard Lindsey and her committee.

Candlelight Reading At Mt. Pocono Church

Mount Pocono — Mrs. Patrick Horgan, has announced that the reading and luncheon given by the WSCS of the Methodist church, Wednesday evening at the church was enjoyed by a large attendance of members and friends.

Mrs. Jacob Schumacher of Scranton reviewed the book, 'A little more than kin'. Mrs. Robert Latso and Miss Wanda Bisbing entertained with vocal and piano solos.

Mrs. Eva Taylor, Mrs. Leona Powers, and Mrs. Irene Brock served as refreshment committee, and the tables, decorated with fruit and flowers, were presided over by: Mesdames, Earl Brock, Patrick Horgan, Lloyd Learns, Paul Derr, Charles James, Alvah Merwin, Walter Merwin, Bian Walker Jr., George Wandley, Alvin MacWilliams, David Kohn, O. W. McGargle, Earl Dennis, Homer Jones, William Wright, Jack Davis, Miss Winifred Hay and Miss Gladys Merwin.

The reading in the church and the luncheon in the social rooms were both by candlelight.

Stork Shower For Mrs. Hinton At Transue Home

Mrs. Gerald Hinton, Bryant St., Stroudsburg, was the guest of honor at a surprise stork shower held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Transue, 933 Queen St., Stroudsburg on Saturday night.

Gifts had been arranged in front of the fireplace where streamers, of pink and blue carried the attention to the mantel where a stork, carrying a bundle, surveyed the party.

In the dining room, the refreshment table was decorated with a silver tea service and a large cake trimmed with pink and blue rosebuds. Pink and blue napkins folded and pinned diaper-shaped held mints.

In addition to the guest of honor and her husband, guests included Cheryl Transue, Clarence Transue Jr., Mrs. Susie Transue, Mrs. Faith Argot, Miss Sue Warner, Mrs. Margaret Cramer, Mrs. Margaret McGrath, Mrs. Jennie Cramer, Mrs. Dorothy Dietrick, Mrs. Alberta Yutz, Mrs. Helen Marley, Mrs. Edna Monti, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson and Anne, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sarley.

Sending gifts but unable to attend were Mrs. Romayne Rough, Mrs. Mary Paul, Miss Helen Shick, Miss Barbara LaBar, Miss Vernetta Rarick, Mrs. Betty Peterson, Mrs. Dorothy Dunn, Mrs. Lucy Quig, Mrs. Ashton Burrows, Mrs. Rose Schaefer, Mrs. Elizabeth Schaeffer and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Grumm, grandparents of New York City.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

One recent day Doris Hinton, head of our Wyckoff jewelry department, introduced me to a very pleasant salesman named Wider, who had arrived at our store with a beautiful assortment of Indian jewelry in sterling, set with turquoise. To introduce me to any jewelry salesman is usually a very unfair thing for Doree to do . . . because, if anyone loves this type of accessory, it is I. Mr. Wider's assortment of bracelets, rings and earrings was no exception . . . it had me spellbound in no time at all.

As it was pointed out, however, just seeing Indian crafts means little if one has no knowledge of the symbols so extensively used for ornamentation. Happily today's mail brings a letter from Mr. Wider, complete with brochure showing the various signs and explaining their meaning. His particular line of jewelry is from Indian tribes native to the Southwestern United States, and the symbols have been handed down from one generation to another. The origin may be lost in the mists of years, but the form and meaning have been carefully preserved and recorded, and are as revered by the Indian today as in long ago primitive times. Variations appear among the different tribes, but when one understands the symbols of any particular group it is easy enough to comprehend the symbolism of others.

I wish I might reproduce the designs here, but that is impossible. A butterfly, for instance, is not unlike a pair of Navy wings . . . and it means Beauty. A design that resembles a ladder is an enclosure, and means Surrounded. A horse is easily recognizable in the stick-type drawing common to all children and many grownups, and indicates a Journey. The arrow symbolizes Protection, and a ray of lightning with distortions is a lightning snake, denoting Swiftness. A bird drawn from the side, with an arc for a head and an elongated triangle for a body, means Carefree, while a thunderbird, shown from the front with wings spread American eagle fashion, is a Bearer of Happiness. An arrowhead symbolizes alertness, and two short antler-type marks, placed curved back-to-back are deer tracks indicating Plenty of Game, while the larger four-fingered bear tracks are a Good Omen. Rain clouds humped together over a wavy fringe are a sign of Good Prospects; the lasso which resembles twisted rope and may be found in our friendship rings and bracelets, symbolizes Captivity. A snaky, curved line is the Indian way of showing running water, and means No Thirst, while the sun indicates happiness. An elliptic formation, with jagged inner design, is the watchful eye which warns its beholder to be cautious. The summer bird, which is a tiny bird's head emerging, it would seem, from a flower, is a Prayer for warmth; raindrops represent Food and the jagged crescent, or rattlesnake jaw, is a sign of Strength.

So there, from the mysterious past, are the symbols that American Indians have used during the years, and that delight thousands of other Americans in colorful jewels, both sterling and sterling combined with turquoise or other natural stones.

With gift-buying season upon us, there should be a big demand for this type of jewelry. In the first place, it is genuine . . . and it is perfectly made. In the second place, it is always in excellent taste for tailored wear, and teenagers particularly love it. We have a shipment on order that should be arriving any day; we also have many pieces in stock right now. There are square plain silver rings priced at 1.00, 1.50 and 1.98, and turquoise-set rings ranging in price from 1.00 to 3.98 Bracelets for adults are 2.98, 5.00, 5.50, and 8.50, depending upon size and detail; junior bracelets with genuine turquoise are 3.50, and tiny baby bracelets are 1.00 and 1.50.

Indian summer may be but a short season on our calendar . . . but any girl with a wisely chosen array of Indian jewelry can always be an Indian Stunner. And the more bracelets, the merrier!

Matrimony Among Major Issues Discussed By House Of Bishops

By Paul Carlson

POCONO MANOR—Despite pressures to do otherwise, the Episcopal House of Bishops yesterday showed no inclination to ask for changes in the Church's canons on matrimony.

More than 125 prelates, now holding their 1956 interim sessions here, appeared to clarify for the Church the fact the present canons are subject to two different schools of interpretation:

1. Some bishops feel unable to grant a petition for remarriage unless they can find cause to annul the first marriage.

2. However, others employ the "pastoral approach," and allow freedom of conscience to decide on the merits of each individual case.

In other action, the House expressed the Church's appreciation to an anonymous donor of $1-million to the revolving loan fund of the Episcopal Church Foundation.

The fund makes loans for new church building in areas where population growth are straining existing facilities.

Yesterday afternoon, the House went into executive session to discuss racial integration. The discussion was led by the Rt. Rev. E. A. Penick, bishop of North Carolina.

It's expected the results of that discussion will be embodied in a statement which will be issued before the bishops conclude their sessions here tomorrow.

The discussion on matrimony was of an advisory nature to the marriage commission which will meet here tomorrow. The Church's canons on matrimony were last amended in 1946 to allow appeal to the bishops where communicants desired remarriage.

The Rt. Rev. T. N. Carruthers, bishop of South Carolina, reported on the results of a questionnaire sent to all active prelates.

Forty-seven bishops are satisfied with the present canons, while 13 are not, the questionnaire showed. Thirty-eight of the bishops who replied use the "nullify principle," 21 admit causes arising after the first marriage was contracted, and 17 employ both approaches.

The results of the survey also indicated that some 3,000 requests for remarriage were received between January, 1952 and the same month this year. About 77 percent of these requests have been granted.

However, in instances where no marriage was contemplated, very few favorable judgments were handed down.

The 21 bishops who said they allowed other conditions than those specifically mentioned in the canons listed several additional conditions. The last included adultery, physical cruelty, alcoholism and broken spiritual union.

Also cited as an additional condition were marriages in which no home was set up before the serviceman's departure.

One of the bishops who expressed dissatisfaction with the present canons asked for a general canon allowing a prelate to use his "common sense." However, another objected to the amount of authority already vested in the bishops relative to this issue.

In other action, the House was informed of the $1-million gift to the Episcopal Foundation in a joint announcement by the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding bishop, and William B. Given, Jr., foundation president.

The anonymous donor has stipulated that the entire amount become a part of the revolving loan fund to be used to assist in church construction in all parts of the country.

The announcement said the foundation established the fund several years ago to help the church meet a problem created by shifting population patterns.

It said that rapid growth from such causes as the opening of new lands in the West because of irrigation, and the establishment of new industries in certain communities, left many potentially large congregations with badly outgrown church facilities or with no churches at all.

These situations, the announcement continued, provides a stategic opportunity for the Episcopal Church to attract and hold new members. But most young congregations are unable to make the immediate large outlay of money needed to begin construction.

Wherever possible, the foundation, through its revolving loan fund, provides the temporary outside assistance to initiate a building program, the statement said.

In other matters, the Bishop of Missouri expressed the hope that the American Church's decision on relations with the new church in India will not be based on "doctrinaire presuppositions."

This comment was made by the Rt. Rev. A. C. Lichtenberger, in reporting on a visit to the Church of South India. The opinion of Bishop Lichtenberger and other prelates who visited India will be submitted to the Commission on Ecumenical Relations in January.

The 10-year-old Church of South India is a unified communion containing Anglican, Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian elements. Within 30 years, the new church will decide whether to continue the system of episcopal ordination.

In other action, the House accepted the resignations of the Rt. Rev. Frank A. Rhea, former missionary bishop of Idaho, and that of the Rt. Rev. Norman S. Binsted, missionary bishop of the Philippines, effective March 1st.

Special tribute was paid to Bishop Binsted by the presiding prelate, who noted that the veteran misisonary leader has never recovered his health since his internment following "heroic" relief activities during the Japanese occupations.

Nominations for the election of missionary bishops for Idaho and for the new District of Central America were closed Tuesday night. The election will take place this morning following a communion service.

A resolution was also adopted designating next June 16th as Jamestown Sunday for the commemoration of the first recorded Anglican celebration of Holy Communion in America.

Kiwanis Club Makes Annual Ag Awards

ANNUAL presentation of awards to high school students for outstanding work in vocational agriculture and homemaking highlighted the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting yesterday at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The prize winners were Evangeline Parker, Tobyhanna Township; Nancy Metzgar, Stroudsburg; Carole Anewalt, Polk Township, and Judith Gould, Chestnuthill Township, all of whom were cited for homemaking projects.

Program

Wilmer Frisbie, vocational agriculture adviser, presided during the presentation program and was assisted by these members of the Kiwanis committee: Dr. Nathan G. Meyer, Russell Harmon, Dale H. Learn and A. M. Price.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Jeanette Mitchell and Frank Varney, both of Chestnuthill; Mrs. Marian Meckes and Clifford Stroud, Polk; Miss Mary Hall, Mrs. Frances Feltham and Albert Cross, Stroudsburg, all teachers.

Also Earl F. Groner and Alfred W. Munson, Stroudsburg; C. Willis Dunlap, Tobyhanna Township; John C. Litts, county superintendent of schools, and his assistant, Walter H. Sebring; County Agent Arthur E. Ifft and Jerome Blakeslee, Brodheadsville, a school board member.

Speaker

Hal Park, of Red Rock, who has long been associated in the field of agricultural education, spoke following the presentations. His topic was "Danger, Sharp Curve Ahead." One of his major points centered on the thought that vocational agriculture and homemaking were once thought of as education's stepchildren, but both have proved their worth beyond the fondest dreams of early educators and several now-vital courses of study have branched from them.

Large Gathering Briefed On Processing Of Disaster Victims At Civil Defense Meeting

SEVENTY-FIVE division heads and Registration and Inquiry lay workers in the welfare department of Civil Defense were briefed on the processing of disaster victims by Mrs. Gweneth Zarfoss, state coordinator, in an overflow meeting held in the Monroe County Court House Tuesday night.

Robert O. Schell, Welfare Coordinator for Monroe County, opened the meeting by introducing Judge Fred W. Davis, County Director, who gave the welcoming address and administered the loyalty oath to new members of Civil Defense. Schell then introduced Mrs. Zarfoss, state head of the welfare department of Civil Defense.

Mrs. Zarfoss in speaking to the group set up a simulated disaster problem, showing how victims were to be processed and the manner in which all types of registration forms were to be made out for victims coming to mass care centers, emergency hospitals or mortuaries. The work of the county registration center was explained in detail.

Directors

"All children", said Mrs. Zarfoss, "should be taught from the time they first talk to give the names of both parents automatically when asked to do so". "In case of an enemy attack," she pointed out, "there would be from three to five out-of-state inquiries for every victim". This would impose an enormous task on the registration and inquiry workers.

A question and answer period followed.

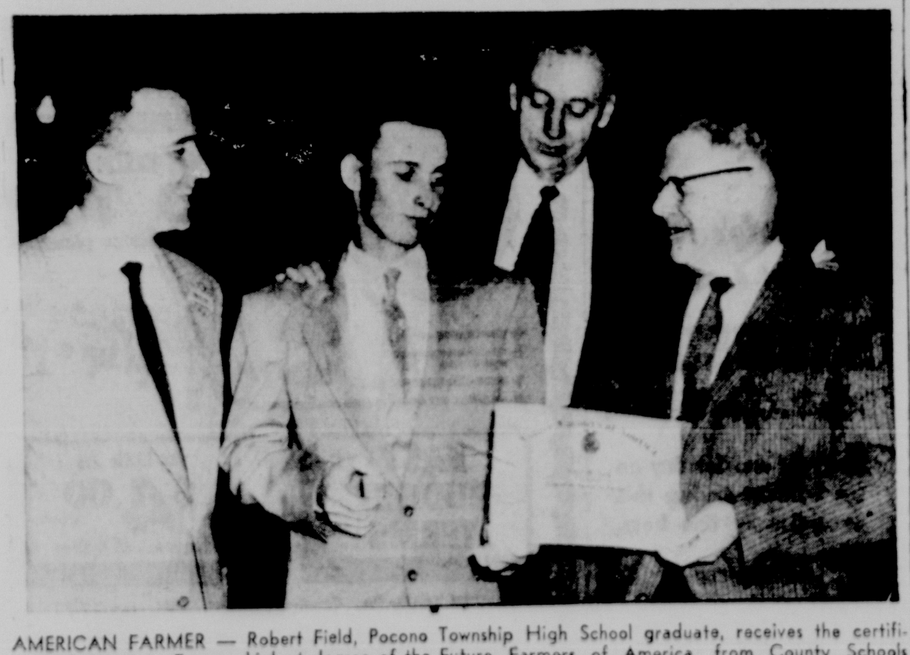

Coordinators in charge of the meeting were: deputy welfare directors and instructors Helen Brown, Mrs. Mary Henning and Mrs. Frances Ransberger. County Headquarters representatives included Paul Crawn, County Executive Director, Mrs. June Cleaver, County Headquarters Assistant, and Mrs. Mary Burnett, County Headquarters Assistant.

Other representatives were as follows:

Alfred Munson, Marian A. Baldwin, Jack Baldwin, Mahlon Serfass, James Hantjis, Frederick G. Dent, Madalyn Schafer, Rena Shick, Elvena Price, Charles Schaller, Martha L. Martin, Elston J. Arnt, Ethel Dickisson, Marion Sabinsky, Margaret Goldy, Helen Grant, Dorothy Kitzman.

Also Hazel Kaniper, John W. Schimmel, Russell Transue, Addie Wiedman, Ina Nase, Florence Bates, Kathryn Wolslayer, Lois M. Moore, Pauline Hauser, Ruth Henry, Mildred Anderson, Mrs. Clarence Kitchen, Mrs. George Dennis, Mrs. Edna Kitchen, Janett Raughley, Mary Hilliyard, Mrs. Daniel Marvin, Mrs. Alfred Baxter, Joseph M. Kulick and Paul Bartholomew.

Others included: Vance P. Britton, Margaret C. Butz, G. Gelles Van Campen, Jane LaBarre, Margaret Carmella, Elsie Logan, Joseph Whalen, Joseph Webster, Jeanette Hawk, Gladys Hewlings, Eleanor Oliver, Edna Reisenwitz, Meriani Lobach, Beatrice G. Bohner, Adam A. Bohner, Charlotte G. LaBar, Evelyn L. Owens, Dorothy Beldler, Esther Scott, Julia Nyce, Barbara A. Drake, Mrs. Robert Clarkson, Edna S. Colonius and Julius Colonius.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER FOR 1957

Here's the glamorous, low-priced 1957 Chrysler Windsor V-8

Announcing the most glamorous car in a generation!

You never looked or felt as good in anything before!

Other cars have changed models . . . this one changes motoring. Look at its rich, racy lines . . . at the long, low silhouette . . . at the dramatic upsweep of the rear fenders that plume back from the waist like the wake of a hydroplane. It's a streak of a car with the elegance of the boulevard and the spirit of the speedway.

Get into this car, drive it into traffic or out on the open highway and you enter a new domain of travel. In the 1957 Chrysler, with its new Torsion-Aire Ride, motion has a new "feel". And wait till you toe the throttle. A new Pushbutton TorqueFlite Transmission teams with a mighty airplane-type V-8 engine, developing up to 325 horsepower, to give you a new high-velocity getaway, matchless passing power when you need it.

Come in this week and visit our showrooms. See and drive the most completely new car of the year!

Torsion-Aire Ride
pours the road under you!

Try Chrysler's new Torsion-Aire Ride and you'll think some of the laws of gravity, motion and inertia have been suspended in your favor. No more rock and roll. No more pitch when you stop. Chrysler's new torque rod suspension and lower center of gravity give you a brand new ground-skimming "feel" of the road. The wheels ride the contours . . . but you don't. The road just pours under you.

ESSTC Girls Complete Undefeated Hockey Season

Sports Trail --

By Whitney Martin

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Eddie Arcaro is a dapper, effervescent little fellow with rather wide, starry eyes and a ready grin that is stopped only by his ears.

Calling him little is a little redundant, as if he weren't little he wouldn't be a jockey, unless he happened to be an elevator jockey or rode an elephant in a circus parade.

He's not only a horse jockey; he's the plutocrat of horse jockeys, the king of the stake riders, and a fellow whose reputation is so formidable that his mount gets backing even if, on its record, it couldn't beat a field of rheumatic turtles.

Entrance

We came across him in the entrance to the jockey quarters at Laurel, where he was chatting with Sonny Workman, another highly regarded rider who has retired and is living the life of the idle rich in Florida.

Other jockeys brushed past him on their way to or from a race, some of them eyeing him covertly with the awe of a rookie eyeing Ted Williams. He was unaware of their glances as he and Workman chatted about this and that, and mostly about golf.

Someone asked Arcaro if he had any weight troubles, as he's no longer a kid and many a man has to fight middle-age spread.

"No," he said. "I watch my diet. It gets to be a habit. You automatically order the things you can eat without gaining. I don't have to use the steam room. Seen the steam room here? Come on, I'll show you."

He led the way briskly up a short flight of stairs to a warm room with a steam cabinet in one corner. "Never use that, wouldn't be anything left of me," he commented. A second room was warmer yet, and finally there was the torture chamber—a tiny room with a bin of big rocks. The rocks are heated, and then doused with water to create live steam.

"That's the way they do in Finland," Eddie explained. He led the way back through the big room where a score or more jockeys, assisted by their khaki-clad valets, were changing gear between races.

Out on the adjoining veranda overlooking the home stretch several jockeys, wearing the colors of their next mount, perched idly on the railing.

There were Jonny Longden, a venerable, seamy-faced veteran who has ridden more winners than any rider in history; Johnny Adams, a stubby, powerful fellow with a fullback's shoulders, and two or three others still building their reputations.

Conversation

It came out in the general conversation that Arcaro was going to ride a stranger shortly in the $100,000 Washington, D. C., International. His mount was to be Fisherman, a horse he rode to victory in that event two years ago.

"I've ridden him three, four times," he said, "but he doesn't know me. You have to be around a horse in the mornings a lot before they get to know you. Every horse has a different personality."

Someone wondered if the sometimes hostile attitude of a crowd ever bothered him. He laughed. "Not any more," he said. "Sometimes you hear personal remarks you don't like when you're in the paddock. I tell you it really bothers—Ted Atkinson. He gets spitting mad. I better go now and get dressed."

He left abruptly, walking briskly into the jockey room like a fellow who was going to take a quick shower and be right back. Yet in a few minutes he would be risking life and limb in a race which would mean $7,000 to him if his horse won. These little guys have all the nerve in the world, but no nerves.

schools, Park said the disappearance of the little red schoolhouse from the American scene was inevitable. But, he warned, it is not enough to have large, consolidated schools with well-schooled teachers, cafeterias, hands, etc. More important, he added, there is still room for the dedicated, well-trained teacher whose responsibility it will be to teach pupils and not subjects. This, Park continued, is the remnant we can salvage from the one-room schoolhouse.

William P. Wells, Kiwanis president, announced that the club's annual election will take place next Wednesday. Elwood Hintze heads the slate of officers nominated at the last meeting.

Jeffcoat Pleased With Contract

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14 (AP)—Hal Jeffcoat, called "one of the best pitchers in the league in the last half of the 1956 season" by General Manager Gabe Paul, today signed his 1957 contract with the Cincinnati Redlegs.

It wasn't disclosed whether Jeffcoat got a raise in pay as a result of his late-season showing but he said, "They were very generous with me."

Chamberlain Accounts For Only Score

EAST Stroudsburg State Teachers College closed an undefeated field hockey season yesterday with a hard fought 1-0 decision over Ursinus College, on the Normal Hill field.

The victory was the fifth of the campaign for the Warriorettes, as compared to two ties and no setbacks.

ESSTC has won over the Alumnae, Elizabethtown, Gettysburg and Drexel, in addition to Ursinus. The deadlocks were with Lock Haven and West Chester.

Difference

Joan Chamberlain was the difference between victory and a tie yesterday as the quick moving center forward rapped the game's only goal into the nets in the first half.

ESSTC scored 14 goals this season, while the opposition was limited to six scores.

The second teams of the two schools also played yesterday, but the contest was limited to one half because of darkness. Ursinus won the second-team battle, 1-0.

Lineups of the main event follows:

ESSTC	Pos.	Ursinus
Emery	LW	Custer
Bircher	LI	LeCato
Chamberlain	CF	Dawkins
Abrams	RI	Wagner
Watson	RW	Watson
Neas	LH	Dunn
Crouthamel	CH	Bardman
Hoover	RH	Justice
Bord	LB	Irwin
Underwood	RB	Gros
Walters	G	Woodbury

Score by halves:

ESSTC	1	0—1

Tru-Matic Sets Marks In 'B' Loop

TRU-MATIC broke all existing league records for the year, rolling a 941 and 2627 in beating Kream-ee Ice Cream for four points on last Friday night. Top score for Tru-Matic was rolled by John Flood with a 243 and 625, setting new highs in the league.

He was aided in hitting the 2627 by Arly Lambert with a 528 and Don Miller with 523. Fred Metzgar added a 223 single game. Tops for Kream-ee was Louie Lee with a pair of 215's and a 141 for a 571.

Mosler's Inn won their first point of the year in the first game, besting Regina Hotel 857 to 825. John Possinger led the way for Mosler's, pounding the pins for a 230 first game and a total of 548. John raised his average seven points. Top men for Regina as they took the last two games and total wood were John Levandoski at 506 and Larry DePue with a 505.

In the other match, Cole's Drug Store won three from Lanterman's Funeral Home losing the middle game by 14 pins. Tops for Cole's was Cal Counterman with a 544 and John Strouse with 509. Bill Lanterman was high for Lanterman's with a 526 and a 188 single and Ted Cramer came in second with a 199 and 484 total.

Leads League

Cole's leads the league by two points over second place Tru-Matic. Regina Hotel holds down third place by a one point spread over Kream-ee Ice Cream.

The individual average race has tightened into a three way fight with John Strouse at 176-22, John Flood 176-17 and Louie Lee 176-16.

Scholastic Grid Player Dies

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP)—A Santa Maria High School football player, Boone Lee Rogers, 16, died today in Santa Barbara Hospital of a broken vertebra of the neck.

He never regained consciousness after being hurt Friday while, school officials said, he was tackling another player.

Syracuse Leads Lambert Poll

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — For the second straight week, Syracuse is the unanimous choice of the 15-man Lambert Trophy Selection Committee as the leading eastern college football team.

Rival Scores Build Mystery

(EDITOR'S NOTE—First in a series of three articles on the participants in the annual Thanksgiving morning game between Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg highs. Today's concerns the opposition met by the Cavaliers and Mountaineers this season.)

THIS IS THE BIG ONE and you can usually throw past records out the window. Stroudsburg High, under the guidance of John Whitehead will go into the big Thanksgiving Day football battle with a 6-3 won and loss record, while the Cavaliers will enter the fray with a 4-5 mark.

Comparing the opposition might give a good indication of the strength or weakness of each eleven or it might be just a detour to the ultimate result.

Jack Kist's East Stroudsburg team played four foes who were also met by the Mountaineers. The Cavaliers defeated Slatington 18-0, Pen Argyl 20-2, and Lehighton 12-7 and lost to Bangor 19-6.

Stroudsburg, on the other hand, bested Lehighton 25-0, Pen Argyl 6-0, Slatington 13-6 and Bangor 16-0.

By the way of wins and losses off the same foes, Stroudsburg's edge, if you could call it that, is its 16-0 win over Bangor High and the Slaters victory over Eastburg, 19-6. In a points-spread that would give the Mountaineers a 29-point difference here.

However, you lose some of that when the Stroudsburg-Pen Argyl and Green Wave-Cavalier game scores are compiled. In this one Kist's boys would pick up 12 points.

This putting point against point gets you nowhere but a place in the mathematical world.

From our vantage point throughout the season we feel the opposition not met by each other tell a better tale.

East Stroudsburg, although on the losing end both times, showed top-flight potential in losses to good elevens Wilson and Nazareth. In the Blue Eagle game the Cavaliers were near pulling the biggest upset of the Lehigh-Northampton League season until the final two minutes of the fray.

Good in Defeat

Stroudsburg, from our perch, did fine jobs in bowing to Catasauqua and Northampton Highs. While the point spreads don't favor this, the Mountaineers showed finer form in losing then in winning some other games throughout the year. In Lehigh Valley circles, Cally and the Konkrete Kids could easily be classed among the area's first six clubs.

On points scored by each eleven and by the opposition both teams are pretty even. Stroudsburg ran up 101 tallies in nine games, while their foes pushed over 97 tallies. Eastburg has run up 122 markers and saw 105 chalked up by nine opponents.

Statistics and past records seem to reveal nothing except that going into the big one Stroudsburg has a winning season and Eastburg, thus far, a loser.

But as the man said, "when the rivalry is at such a pitch, anything can happen." Past Cavalier-Mountaineer skirmishes verify this.—Bob Clark.

Varsity 'S' Club Meets

Varsity "S" Association membership will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Stroudsburg Municipal Building today at 8 p.m.

The coming Minstrel Show to be staged by the club will be the number one topic of business.

A football film will also be shown.

Pitt Shapes Up As Major Powerhouse

By JACK LYNCH

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP) — Coach Johnny Michelosen won't admit it, but his Pitt football team is beginning to shape up as a more ferocious outfit than the 1955 squad which clawed its way through a rugged schedule to compile a 7-3 record and wind up in the Sugar Bowl.

There's bowl talk in the air again but Michelosen said yesterday Pitt hasn't received any feelers yet.

This Saturday the Panthers, now with a 5-2 record, meet Army here. After that comes the traditional game with Penn State, then the season windup at Miami, Fla.

Pitt's only losses were 14-0 to California and a 9-6 to Minnesota. The following week Minnesota was defeated by Iowa and the Gopher coaching staff said part of the reason was the terrific pounding Pitt administered.

Line

Michelosen is known widely for developing hard charging, sure tackling linemen.

Pitt's attack basically features ground yardage. But Michelosen has a couple of smooth operating "T" quarterbacks, Corny Salvaterra and Darrell Lewis, who pass just enough to keep the opposition on its toes.

Salvaterra took over the No. 1 signal-calling duties from Lewis after the California upset. Michelosen says Salvaterra's "leadership began to manifest itself over the last couple of games."

Corney has completed 20 of 47 passes for 285 yards and four touchdowns. He is the team's leading ground gainer with 253 yards on 68 runs for a 3.6-yard average.

One of the players most pleasing to Michelosen is Joe Walton,

Infielder Inks Contract

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14 (AP) — Don Blasingame, rookie infielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, today signed his 1957 contract with a raise in pay. It was reported that the new contract was for about $10,000.

Americans Show Strength In Aussie Meet

GEELONG, Australia, Nov. 14 (AP)—Forty Olympic athletes risked their health and bones tonight in cold and bad light and marked up surprisingly good results in the first of two big pre-Olympic track and field meets.

American athletes, favorites to win the big events in the games of the 16th Olympiad, won all but three of the events they entered and two of those went to runners who have been receiving their training in American colleges.

There were no world records set on the slippery, poorly-lighted turf course, but a couple of Australian marks were broken and Jim Bailey's time for 1,000 yards—2:07.8—surpassed anything shown in the record books for this odd distance, 5,000 meters.

The big disappointment was the wretched showing of John Landy, Australia's holder of the world mile record, and the failure of any Russians to compete.

Twelfth

Landy, trying to work back into winning form after having had a lot of trouble with his legs, ran stiffly in the two-mile race won by Britain's Chris Brasher, and finished 12th in the field of 14.

He looked so bad that after the race he refused even to try to explain his failure. This was the race that supposedly would help him decide in what events he will compete in the Olympics. Now he says he'll wait a few more days before deciding whether to run in the 5,000 meters.

American winners were Jack Davis of Glendale, Calif., who set an Australian record of 13.9 seconds for the 110-yard high hurdles; shot-putter Parry O'Brien, pole vaulter Bob Gutofski and high jumper Charlie Dumas.

Two U.S. relay teams also won handily.

The one-mile medley relay was taken by the U.S. team of Arnold Sowell, Pittsburgh; Thane Baker, Elkhart, Kans.; Bobby Morrow, Abilene, Tex., and J. W. Mashburn, Oklahoma City in 3:22.5.

The 440-yard relay was won by U.S. trackmen Ira Murchison, Chicago; Leamon King, Delano, Calif.; Baker and Morrow in 40.7 seconds.

Greene-Dreher Lists 16 Court Battles

NEWFOUNDLAND — Coach Henry Arneberg's experienced basketball squad from Greene-Dreher-Sterling Joint High School will open its season on Nov. 26 when it meets Polk Township on the latter's court in a non-conference tilt.

The team, headed this year by Captain Walter "Johnny" Hinds, a Senior playing his third year as varsity guard, includes: Howard Phillips, center, beginning his second varsity year; Robert "Bob" Haag, a Sophomore, guard, second year; Donald Olsommer, a Junior, forward second year; Lewis "Lew" Butler, a Senior and 1956-letter winner battling to win a starting position as forward. This latter post was vacated by last year's Captain Johnny Manhart.

Candidates

In the running as candidates are these 1956 Jayvees: Paul Weinland, a Junior, forward; Donald Olsommer, a Junior, center; Ronald Robacker, a Junior, forward; Earl McLain, a Senior, forward; and Ed Simon, a Sophomore, guard.

The team is still troubled this year, according to Coach Arneberg, by lack of height. Last year's record shows 11 wins and seven losses.

Greene-Dreher-Sterling is a member of the Southern Division of the Wayne County Basketball Conference.

The 1956-57 schedule is as follows:

$500,000 Price Tag Marks Sale

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14 (AP) — The get of the $500,000 stallion Adios featured the third of five harness horse selling sessions today.

Included among yearlings by him were a filly that brought a record price for age, gait and sex and a colt that fetched the top price of the week.

The filly was Geddy's Pick who was sold for $52,000 to J.E. and G. C. Armstrong of Toronto, Ont. The previous record was $25,000 for Way Dream, also by Adios, in 1954.

The Adios colt Meadow Bucky brought $34,000 to the bid of L. B. Sheppard, Hanover, Pa.

In all, 197 head changed hands today for $567,200 that brought the three-day total to $1,166,650 for 564 head, an average of $2,068. At the same stage last year the average was $1,856.

AP Scribe Likes Colgate In Upset

By ED WILKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—The wife, while feeding the baby, jabbed a pin into a list of last weekend's 45 games and "picked" 31 winners. The guy next door, begrudgingly discarding his rake, picked 34 teams that came through.

We, meanwhile, thumbed brochures, scanned injured lists, studied records and flipped coins to blow 17 losers (18, counting Adlai) for a .622 mark. For a struggling percentage, or a national voting edge, that would be quite adequate.

But for football forecasting, well even a charitable view makes it scandalously poor.

But, with a keener insight as to how Terry Brennan feels, here we go again:

Iowa 9, Ohio State 6—What's the bigger incentive—an unprecedented Rose Bowl trip or an unprecedented third straight Big Ten title? We're stuck with the roses.

Tennessee 19, Mississippi 14—Assuming the Vols can avoid a letdown after that Georgia Tech game.

Michigan State 18, Minnesota 7—If there's snow in Minneapolis, all bets are off.

Oklahoma 36, Missouri 14—You won't get rich quick on this one.

Miami (Fla) 24, Clemson 18—This one is Friday night in the Orange Bowl and the Hurricane figures to smash the Tigers' unbeaten string.

Texas A&M 26, Rice 6—The Aggies have suffered their upset of the season (that 14-14 tie by Houston).

George Tech 32, Alabama 0—Tech isn't going to blow a bowl bid.

Colgate 28, Syracuse 24—If you can pass, you stand a chance to beat the Orange. Colgate can pass.

Oregon State 36, Idaho 6—Idaho has potatoes, but Oregon State has the meat and gravy.

And now, once over lightly:

EAST—Pitt 14, Army 12; Boston U. 26, Boston College 18; Yale 16, Princeton 14; Penn State 26, North Carolina State 0; Penn 24, Columbia 21; Navy 33, Virginia 6; Dartmouth 12, Cornell 7; Harvard 24, Brown 13.

MIDWEST—Illinois 26, Wisconsin 12; Kansas State 24, Iowa State 14; Michigan 32, Indiana 7; Purdue 14, Northwestern 9; Notre Dame 33, North Carolina 14; Oklahoma A&M 16, Detroit 12; Nebraska 14, Baylor 10; Texas Tech 14, Tulsa 12.

SOUTH—George Washington 24, The Citadel 0; Florida State 18, Mississippi Southern 7; Kentucky 27, Xavier (Ohio) 13; Louisiana State 19, Mississippi State 12; Maryland 13, South Carolina 7; Tulane 14, Vanderbilt 13; Duke 24, Wake Forest 13; West Virginia 32, Furman 6.

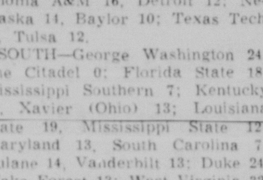

SOUTHWEST — Arkansas 18, Southern Methodist 14; Houston 27, Villanova 12; Texas Christian 21, Texas 16.

FAR WEST—Arizona State 14, Arizona 7; Wyoming 35, Brigham Young 20; California 12, Washington 6; Montana 33, New Mexico 12; Stanford 24, Washington 13; UCLA 18, Kansas 7; Colorado 32, Utah 18.

Rowing Official Praises U.S.

BALLARAT, Australia, Nov. 13 (AP)—A top American rowing official said today the United States has the best all-round team in history with a good chance of winning any of the seven Olympic titles to be contested on Lake Wendouree here starting Nov. 23.

Clifford (Tippy) Goes, chairman of the U. S. Olympic Rowing Committee, made this prediction after establishing the rowing team in its quarters in this unique little mining village 80 miles north of Melbourne.

Mantle Thrilled With Title Of 'Most Valuable Player'

COMMERCE, Okla., Nov. 14 (AP) — A not too surprised Mickey Mantle said tonight that winning the American League's most valuable player award and the league's "triple crown" of hitting for 1956 was a greater thrill to him than shooting for Babe Ruth's home run record.

"I've still got plenty of time," Mantle, 28, said from his home here in referring to Ruth's 60 home runs. The New York Yankee slugger hit 52 homers, batted .353 and drove in 130 runs, all league leading marks during the 1956 season.

"Let's just say what was my best season," Mantle commented, "and this award makes me real proud. It's the top to everything."

Not Surprised

Mickey said he was not too surprised when his wife called to tell him that the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America had selected him in a unanimous vote for the league's most valuable player award.

"I sorta figured I would win it, but it's still a big thrill," he said. "I was out shooting some golf with my twin brothers, Ray and Roy, and Billy Martin (New York Yankee infielder) when my wife told me."

Mantle, disclosing he was about 10 pounds too heavy at 203 after a round on the winter banquet circuit, said he wasn't too good a golfer, "but I still beat that Martin." Mantle said jokingly that he could beat Martin in anything. Martin was giving him a ribbing about winning the MVP award, Mantle said. "He says I'm just lucky and that he should have won it."

Gonsalves Pounds Out Decision

TOKYO, Nov. 14 (AP) — Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., pounded out a one-sided unanimous decision over Jiro Sawada, 17, in a 10-round lightweight boxing match here tonight.

Both Gonsalves, seventh ranking world lightweight, and Sawada, former Orient lightweight champ, weighed 139½.

Pen Argyl Trips Bangor Junior Varsity

PEN ARGYL — Pen Argyl High School's junior varsity football team came up with a fourth quarter score to edge Bangor's yearlings, 6-0 here at Weona Park. The game was played Monday afternoon.

Tom Guerro swept end for 67 yards and the only score of the defensively played contest.

A line buck for the extra point by Ed Weider failed to produce the seventh marker.

Lineups follow:

PEN ARGYL
Ends: Zonce, Dulac, Stump, Sparrow.
Tackles: Williams, Tocket.
Guards: Voiles, Laky.
Centers: Stumpone, Moyer.
Backs: Guerro, Lobb, (qb) Davis (fb) and Savercool, Weider (hb).

BANGOR
Ends: Finkbeiner, Brodt.
Tackles: Utsch, Mack.
Guards: Black, Albert.
Center: Glein.
Backs: Buzzard (qb) Joella (fb) East, Willis (hb).

Pen Argyl	6—6

Royals, Lakers Gain Victories

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP) —Richie Regan and Dick Ricketts fired a flashy fourth quarter comeback tonight to give the Rochester Royals a 90-87 National Basketball Assn. victory over the New York Knicks.

Minneapolis overpowered the Boston Celtics 113-97 in the lopsided opener.

Mantle Named Most Valuable Player

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankee slugger who won the American League's triple batting crown, today was unanimously named the most valuable player of the League in the balloting of the Baseball Writers Assn.

Only once before in the history of the voting had a player won without a dissenting vote. That was in 1953 when Cleveland's Al Rosen also swept all 24 ballots of the committee that includes three writers from each league city.

Cinch

Mantle was regarded as a cinch to win the coveted award for the first time after he paced the American League in three departments. He led in batting average with .353, home runs with 52 and runs batted in with a total of 130, three brilliant marks. Only eight other men in both leagues ever matched Mantle's triple sweep although Rogers Hornsby and Ted Williams each did it twice.

Mickey Mantle

Yogi Berra, a Yankee teammate who won the award the last two years and also in 1951, finished a strong second with 186 points as compared to Mantle's maximum total of 336. Berra drew nine seconds and 10 thirds from the writers in a one-two Yankee sweep. He hit 30 home runs, had 105 RBIs and a .298 average.

Al Kaline, Detroit's fine right fielder, was the only other man in contention with more than 100 points. Kaline, a .314 hitter who threatened Mantle's grasp on the runs batted in title with 128, piled up 142 points.

There was a wide gap between and the others with Harvey Kuenn the Detroit shortstop, placing fourth with 80 points. Billy Pierce, the talented Chicago lefthanded pitcher, followed with 75 and then came Williams, of the Boston Red Sox, with 70.

Seventh

Bob Nieman who finished with Baltimore after starting with Chicago tied for seventh place with the Yanks' Gil McDougald at 55 points. Nieman had a fine year with a .320 batting average and McDonald, the handy man in the Yank infield who did an excellent job at shortstop in a major shift, batted .311.

Vic Wertz, the comeback hero of Cleveland who battled polio and returned to hit 32 home runs and drive in 106 runs was ninth with 45 points. Bob Lemon, always the old dependable of the Cleveland pitching staff with his 20-14 record picked up 40 points for tenth place.

Stengel Happy With Selection Of Mickey

GLENDALE, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP)—"A very splendid choice," said Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees today when informed that his outfielder Mickey Mantle had been named unanimously as the American League's most valuable player.

"Mantle is an outstanding player, good in every department," Casey continued. "The selection proves that there isn't any friction among the baseball writers from the cities outside New York—they just voted for the man who deserved it.

"Outside of Mantle's leadership in home runs, RBI's and batting average, he's a real drawing card. Any man who comes as close as he did to breaking Babe Ruth's record is an attraction. He'll pack 'em in the ball park.

Equipment

"Another thing, you seldom see a home run hitter, and as big a ballplayer, who's as fast as Mantle. He has terrific speed as a base runner and in that outfield too, and he's liable to beat out a bunt. He's fast enough to steal more bases than he did but we didn't want him to try it.

"He has that bad leg, y'know, and we didn't want to take any chances. Besides, we had Yogi Berra hitting behind him and didn't want Mantle to risk being thrown out when he could likely score."

Oregon State Tackle Named Number One Lineman Of Week

By The Associated Press

OREGON STATE'S 232-pound tackle John Witte was named The Associated Press Lineman of the Week today for his key blocks against Stanford.

The victory over Stanford virtually assured Oregon State of playing in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day against the Big Ten representative.

Earnel Durden was the leading ball carrier for Oregon State with 93 yards on 12 carries, many on reverses.

"On every play Durden ran, Witte was making the key block," said Oregon State Coach Tommy Prothro.

Opposite

The giant tackle played opposite Stanford's 228-pound Paul Wiggin in a battle of two All-America candidates.

Frank Gilliam, Iowa end, and Larry Aldrich, Idaho end, were high up in the weekly balloting of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Jerry Tubbs of Oklahoma and Bubba Howe of Tennessee, both centers, came in for high praise for their play against Iowa State and Georgia Tech.

Other spectacular performances were credited to Dalva Allen, Houston tackle; Ben Hammond, Washington center against UCLA; Gil Robertshaw, Brown tackle against Cornell; William Hedeman, Williams tackle who prevented three Wesleyan touchdowns in scoreless tie; Gary Francis, Illinois end against Michigan, and Dee Powell, Texas A&M guard against Southern Methodist.

Mississippi Tops In Defense

By The Associated Press

MISSISSIPPI, the national college leader in defense, presents the next obstacle to Tennessee, which moved to the top of the national team ratings in The Associated Press poll this week.

National Collegiate A.A Service Bureau statistics today showed Mississippi as the major college total defense leader for the fourth straight week. Tennessee, oddly, isn't ranked among the first ten in either offense or defense.

In eight games, Mississippi has yielded an average of only 163.6 yards per game by both rushing and passing.

Harness Driver Selected On Board

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14 (AP)—Delvin Miller, Meadow Lands, Pa. nationally known harness racing driver, today was named to the board of directors of the U.S. Trotting Assn.

Miller replaces Charles Swoyer, of Reading, Pa., as a director from District 8 which includes Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

Swoyer, a director since the USTA was organized in 1938, resigned because of ill health.

Candidate

Miller, 43, will be a candidate for a full three-year term on the district board in January. The USTA, parent body of the harness racing sport, is made up of 11 geographical districts in this country and Canada with 40 directors representing the membership of more than 12,000 horse owners, tracks, and breeders.

Miller, owner of Meadow Lands Farm, has won both the Hambletonian (Lusty Song) and the Little Brown Jug (Dudley Hanover) and a year ago sold his stallion Adios for $500,000.

Westminster Available

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP)—Bowl minded officials in the market for a top New Year's Day attraction might do well to clean the record of Westminster College, the only undefeated team in Pennsylvania.

The Titans, coached by Harold Burry, appear headed for their third undefeated season in four years. They've won 27, lost one, and tied one over that span.

Last Time

This Saturday Westminster meets Carnegie Tech, the last team to inflict a defeat on the Titans—a 6-0 decision in 1954. Tech's current record is 3-4.

This is Burry's fifth year as head football coach at Westminster, a co-educational institution at New Wilmington, about 60 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. Its enrollment is 1,075.

Navy Halfback Is Sidelined

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 14 (AP)—Navy's football team will have to get along Saturday without halfback Paul Gober, one of its two top ball carriers, in its game with Virginia.

Coach Eddie Erdelatz announced today that the senior from Buck Run, Pa., will be in the infirmary for at least a week and might not even be ready for the season's finale against Army Dec. 1.

Gober suffered torn ligaments and cartilage in his right knee against Duke last Saturday.

May Change Decision

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Israel may reconsider its decision to withdraw from the Olympic basketball competition, the U.S. Committee for Sports in Israel said today after hearing a report from Elmer Ripley, coach of the Israeli team.

'FLYING A' FOR ACTION

The place to stop for more go is the big red-and-white "Flying A" Service sign that replaces the old Tydol. It's "Flying A" for action! Treat your car to eager power, smooth action, with "FLYING A" ETHYL gasoline. Change to famous VEEDOL 10-30 MOTOR OIL—the oil that cuts carbon deposits, curbs pre-ignition, gives you up to 40 more miles per tankful of gasoline. Drive in at the new "Flying A" sign. And remember, this new sign stands for an old friend...the same familiar Tidewater Oil Company and its quality-proved products.

FBI Agents Arrest Air Force Deserter

FBI AGENTS, assisted by local State troopers, picked up and arrested a deserter from the Air Force in Stroudsburg yesterday.

Agents identified him last night as Walter Mosier, 20 of Stroudsburg RD 2. They said Mosier deserted Andrews AFB in Maryland in August of this year.

Prison

He was taken to Lackawanna County prison last night for detention until he is picked up by military authorities who were notified yesterday. The FBI said that Troopers Ed Beneski and Jim Bishop aided in making the arrest.

Mosier is a native of East Stroudsburg.

Ernest and Miles Mauney

Mauneys To Launch Concert Season At College Monday

A TWO-PIANO TEAM made up of identical twins—Ernest and Miles Mauney—will be heard in the first Community Concert of the season Monday night.

The concert is slated for 8:30 p. m., in the State Teachers College auditorium in East Stroudsburg.

First Rank

The Mauneys have established themselves as musicians of the first rank through a series of concert and television appearances in this country. They have played to critical acclaim in most major U. S. cities.

The Mauneys are natives of Kings Mountain, N. C., and began studying piano at an early age with their mother as their instructor.

Wayne Group Holds Annual Banquet

ANNUAL FALL banquet of the Wayne County Association of Student Councils was held recently at Pleasant Mount.

A turkey dinner was served by the mothers of the students of the Pleasant Mount council. After the dinner, a meeting of all six councils attending was held. President Wallace Ludwig presided.

Ronald Dukerich, of Waymart High School, gave a talk on the Pennsylvania Association of Student Councils convention. He was the chairman of a discussion group on "Projects for Student Councils." Ronald also told about Waymart serving on the nomination committee, and of the large assemblies he attended in the three days he was there. There were also other students there from Wayne County.

Report

Wallace Ludwig then reported on the National Convention of Student Councils that he and Mr. Box attended in Toledo, Ohio, last June. They were there for six days. He explained that the procedure was similar to that of the Pennsylvania convention, but more were present and discussion groups and assembly were held with larger groups of students.

The new constitution was then put before the entire group for discussion and corrections. Different parts were discussed and a few corrections made. It was ratified by the entire assembly and then by the Advisory Board.

A short advisory board meeting called to set a date for the Spring Banquet so that the film on the National convention could be secured. It was decided to have it on May 1. The next advisory board meeting will be held on April 1, 1957, at Hawley High School, at 7 p.m.

A dance was held to conclude the meeting.

Fellowship Holds Festival

SOUTH STERLING—The annual booth festival of the Methodist Youth Fellowship Subdistrict was held in Gouldsboro with the South Sterling-Greentown MYF participating under the leadership of Nancy Scott.

The banner for the best display of foodstuffs and gifts to be forwarded to the Wyoming Conference Children's Home in Binghamton went to the Hamlin-Sterling MYF.

Attending the event from here were Marvin Rees, counsellor, Nancy Scott, president; Jimmy Scott, Bob Voeste, Jill Smith, Barbara Barnes, Herbert Peet, Thelma Skelton, Joyce Bartleson, Gay Brown, and Sandy Rohrbacker.

House Of Bishops Reveals Historical Background

By Paul Carson

POCONO MANOR — There's one thing that impresses an observer to the current interim sessions of the Episcopal House of Bishops here.

That is the fact that here are a group of consecreated men—in a down-to-earth sense—who are vitally concerned with social and political issues which involve the well-being of all men.

These are not abstract theologians who are only interested in pie-in-the-sky theories on doctrinal issues—important as they may be.

Rather, these men are human beings who laugh and enjoy a witty remark. You might catch one slapping another on the back to emphasize, "It's good to see you again."

But for all their friendliness, the bishops exhibit a sense of urgency in their deliberations. They are men of scholarship, devoted men, who realize that what they do here will have a direct bearing on the lives of thousands.

Presiding Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill summed it up nicely when he noted that a bishop's authority was the "authority of leadership."

Yesterday, the bishops spent the morning and afternoon in prayer and contemplation.

The "Quiet Day" was conducted by the Most Rev. Philip Carrington, Anglican archbishop of Quebec and metropolitan of the Province of Canada.

First Time

This week's sessions are being considerably better attended than the first meeting in 1789, when two bishops withdrew at the General Convention and met for the first time as a separate body.

In fact, it was with a great deal of difficulty that the episcopacy was set up in the United States.

Even after American bishops were consecrated by the Church of England following the Revolution, they were anxiously watched by Constitution-minded Americans for symptoms of "prelacy."

However, actually the Episcopal House of Bishops is a very democratic unit. And each bishop can express himself from the floor.

As late as 1808, the House met in a small bedroom with the same quorum of two members. Their only action was a resolution tactfully recommending "a respectful appeal to every bishop of this Church on the subject of attendance on his part."

Today there are some 125 bishops, including seven of the 13 bishops of missionary districts overseas, who are in attendance here. By Friday, upwards to 160 are expected to take their seats in the House.

Missions in the Caribbean area are especially well represented, and bishops from these districts will be meeting separately to compile the Church's first hymnal in Spanish.

The House of Bishops was not given authority to nominate missionary bishops until 1832.

Success

Many missionary bishops met with considerable success on the American frontier. In fact, the Rt. Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, missionary bishop of Montana, was completely accepted by one of the Wild West's bad men.

"He's full jewelled and 18 karat fine," the desperado said. "He's the biggest and best bishop that ever wore a black gown and the whitest man in these mountains."

There were attempts to get an American episcopate before 1776, but the American Church was never given a prelate as long as England ruled.

At the outbreak of the Revolution, some Episcopalians were prominent among the loyalists, although two-thirds of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and most of the Southern revolutionary leaders were Episcopal Churchmen.

Following the Revolution the American Church decided on a limited constitutional episcopacy—a change from government by bishops to government by elected bishops, priests and laymen.

Today the bishops exercise effective leadership, along with priests and laymen.

The sessions of the House of Bishops, called to consult on administrative problems and matters affecting the state of the Church, have made statements on all major controversies inside the Church — including the Anglo-Catholic movement, Bibical criticism, and liturgical reform—as well as on social matters.

Since 1919, most of the sessions have been open to the press and to the public. At the current meeting, the press has been given every possible assistance.

Press facilities have been set up in the Pantry at Pocono Manor. Mimeographed releases are available. Desks and typewriters have been provided for the corps of newsmen.

In addition to the Daily Record, the following other news agencies are represented: George Dugan, New York Times; Miss Margaret A. Vance, Newark News; Harrison Fry, Philadelphia Bulletin; John Phillips, Allentown Call-Chronicle; Willard Jenkens, Scranton Tribune; and Casper Nannes, Washington Star, and president of the Religious Newswriters Association.

Missionary Group Holds Special Day

BUSHKILL—Missionary Society of the Dutch Reformed Church combined their regular November meeting with the observance of World Community Day at the church on Wednesday.

Miss Helen Cook, president of the society led the group in a program, the theme of which was "The Joy of Service." Mrs. William G. Cook offered a poem entitled "Little Things; Mrs. C. N. Guillot read "The World Everywhere." Mrs. B. H. Bensley's reading was "Chinese Church in Sacramento." Mrs. Guillot rendered "A Prayer" written by Julia Ward Howell. Mrs. Argus Miller gave a report on the Southern Normal School of Brewton, Ala. captioned "Come to Learn." "Thanksgivings I Don't Forget" by Mrs. Louis Hoffecker and the closing thought by Mrs. E. B. Bartram.

Three boxes of winter clothing were packed and will be sent to the mission in Annville, Ky.

Principal Of Bangor High Explains Jointure Strength

BANGOR—Dr. Trevor Williams, principal of the Bangor Area Joint High School, told members of the Parent Teachers Association of the Columbus School on Tuesday that there were three main advantages to school jointure. The first was the greater development of a school program that would meet the needs of the children; secondly, the securement of capable and well-prepared teachers and thirdly, the ability to provide the proper type of facilities in which both pupils and teachers can do their best type of work. He was introduced by Mrs. Marie DeEsch, program chairlady.

Honor was paid to Mrs. Grace Cistone, a past president of the PTA who served during the term from 1954 through 1956, when she was presented with the past president's pin by Mrs. Mary G. Sabatino also a past president.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Sarah Ronco, president. Mrs. Charlotte Matthews, chairlady of the membership committee, reported that 55 new members were received and Mrs. Ruth Beebe announced 15 subscriptions for the PTA Magazine and 12 to the National periodical. Other routine reports were given by Mrs. Rose Policelli, secretary; Mrs. Lorene Williams, treasurer and Mrs. Shirley Matlock, budget and finance.

Fall Festival

It was noted that the annual Fall Festival for the school will be staged at the school on Saturday from 2 to 9 p. m., with each room mother reporting on her area of festival control. Plans for a Christmas treat for the children was deferred until the December meeting.

The attendance banner was won by the Sixth Grade taught by Mrs. Beebe and it was announced that the mothers of the Sixth Grade pupils, taught by Mrs. Gladys Mace, would serve during the December meeting. Mrs. Ronco and Mrs. Matlock were named as delegates to the Northampton County meeting to be held shortly in Palmer Township School.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Beebe's Sixth Grade after the meeting.

New Members For Brownies

BANGOR — Two new members, Mrs. Joyce Roth and Mrs. Granvil Lang were welcomed by the Women's Society of World Service of the Salem Evangelical United Brethern Church during Tuesday's meeting at the church.

Mrs. Anna East, president, directed the business session. Opening prayer was by Mrs. William Shook. Mrs. Charles Hagley, secretary; Mrs. William Dunbar, treasurer, and Miss Alice Miller, Mrs. Clarence Luscombe and Mrs. A. M. Herman gave reports. Eight members reported reading the World Evangel. There were 29 visits made to the sick.

In Charge

Mrs. Herman's group was in charge of the program. Louise Herman offered vocal solos. Miss Miller led in prayer and read the scripture. The lesson was presented by Mrs. Herman. Four letters were read from chaplains in various branches of the armed services.

Hymns were sung, with Mrs. Melvin Slutter as the pianist. A playlet also was presented by Mrs. Herman and her daughter Louise, Mrs. Slutter and Miss Miller. The program concluded with a fellowship of prayer led by Mrs. Emma Rutt. Prayers were offered by Mrs. East and Mrs. Estella Seiple.

Proper Light During Winter Months Plays Major Role In Success Of African Violets

By George Abraham

AFRICAN VIOLETS: Shade may be necessary for good growth of African violets, but home owners should keep in mind that if their plants are not getting enough light during the winter, they won't bloom freely. Here's a simple way to test the light intensity for your violets: Hold your hand about six inches above the plant. If it casts a distinct shadow the plant should be moved to a spot where the light is less intense, or the window can be shaded with light drapery. If your hand casts a shadow just barely visible, the light's about right.

Growers who don't want to juggle their violets from one window to another can use fluorescent lights for sturdier, greener plants with more flowers. This requires little effort. All you do is suspend a 15 watt cold fluorescent tube one foot above them. At night fall turn the light on until you go to bed. This additional six or seven hours of light will give you healthier plants with more flowers.

Few Tips

Light from incandescent bulbs is not as good as fluorescent tubes. Here are a few tips on growing better violets during the winter months: If leaves look bleached, this is usually due to too much light, or lack of fertility. Any time the intensity gets above 1,000 foot candles, lightening of the foliage may be expected. The leaves not only lose color, but mushy spots develop. Grayish foliage is an indication of lack of nitrogen.

Lengthening of the petiole or stems is due to lack of light or overwatering, especially by subirrigation (watering from below). When this is combined with brown edges on leaves, the cause is usually overfertilization with nitrate or potassium.

Stunted plants is often a virus trouble, and outwardly looks like the attack of mites. Young leaves are thickened and brittle, and become dwarfed and light colored. However, they tend to curve downward instead of turning up, as in the case of mites. Hairs lie flat instead of upright, presenting an appearance of glassiness. No remedy except burning of the plants. Mites cause young leaves to appear more hairy than usual, also crowding of the crown leaves, as well as dwarfing and curling of the edges upward. Flowers are small, mishapen and often streaked. Control: Spray with aramite.

Question Box

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: F. R. of East Stroudsburg: "I have saved seed from a fine spruce tree and would like to plant the seed as soon as possible. Do the seeds have to be frozen to germinate them, and if so, would freezing the seed in a deep freezer do the trick?"

Plants can be started from seed down in early spring, or in the coldframe in fall. Normally, the cones of spruce are picked in early fall before the scales separate and allow the seed to escape. Then the seed is stored in glass jars, with the top sealed until spring when the seed can be sown. We like a half and half mixture of sand and peatmoss. Keep the seedbed well watered for the first 4 to 6 weeks while seeds are germinating. A dry spell is apt to be fatal to tender seedlings. Also, during the first year, it's a good idea to protect the young plants against sun and wind damage. A lath screen is an ideal covering for seedbeds. Also a coldframe is a fine planting structure for seed sowing. You can sow the seed in the coldframe even at this late stage, but make sure no mice or chipmunks can enter, as they are fond of evergreen seed. It won't be necessary for you to freeze the seed before sowing it.

Mrs. T. E. Canadensis: "I have a Christmas cactus which never flowers at Christmas time. Please tell me what care it needs."

The Christmas or crab cactus may or may not flower for Christmas. Usually it starts to bloom in January and carry thru until May, or not at all. The reason behind this is that the plant will seldom flower at a temperature of 70 to 75 degs, common house temperature. The ideal Christmas Cactus temperature is around 50 to 60 degs., and for indoor flowering it's important that during the summer the plant be set outdoors in a semi-shady and cool spot.

This tricky cactus needs more water than the other cacti types and should be grown in full sunlight in a windowsill, or in a hanging basket. However, during the winter, from now on, they can be kept in a little on the dry side. Too much water during the winter will keep them from blooming freely. Feed the cactus a little liquid plant food since it needs more feeding than other cacti types.

Contribution Made By Church Group

BANGOR — A contribution of $100 to the self denial fund of the church was approved when the WWW Class of Mackey Memorial Babtist Church convened at the home of Mrs. Florence Cann, Pen Argyl, on Tuesday.

It also was decided to join with the Women's Missionary Society in a Christmas party next month. A covered dish supper will be featured.

Officers

Incumbent officers were re-elected. Mrs. Vernon Phillips, who presided, aws returned as president; Mrs. Bertha Hauser, vice-president; Mrs. Cann, secretary; and Mrs. Elizabeth Sweet, treasurer. The standing committees serving during the past year also were reappointed.

Mrs. Laura Wolfe was the devotional leader. Mrs. Elizabeth Brown led in prayer. Mrs. Henry C. Wray, teacher; Mrs. Elizabeth Hopper, Mrs. Elizabeth Stiles and Mrs. Mary Case also were present.

Mount Pocono

Mrs. John Sutton
Telephone 6781

CAMP 235 Mount Pocono Patriotic Order of America, will be host at the travelers dinner to be given Wednesday at Kresgeville POA hall. All members are to take a covered dish and a gift to exchange with a secret Pal. Those not having a secret Pal will bring a dollar gift to exchange with another member.

Poconos Memorial Unit 903, American Legion Auxiliary, as is their practice each year, placed a wreath on the veterans' memorial in front of the school. The wreath was made by the chairman of memorials and decoration, Mrs. Eva Taylor, and placed by Miss Judy Kohn, a junior member of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Ida Warner has returned to her home on Pocono Road after spending the week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stiff, Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Lillie Taylor, mother of Harry Taylor, is spending the winter at the Taylor home. Mr. Taylor's sister, Mrs. Laura Reuben, Falls Church, Va., is also visiting for several days.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1956

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Your Mars is the only planet in auspicious position now. However, you can supply the impetus and encouragement needed to push ahead. Keep emotions under control.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—If you refuse to "just drift," but urge yourself forward, you will be pleasantly surprised at the good results you will obtain—even in new activities. Go forward!

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Fine rays for worthwhile endeavors—manufacturing, selling of artistic and theatrical interests, research, sciences, education. You can make good headway by hard work, unselfish motives.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Day offers opportunities and encouragement in all worthwhile undertakings IF you remain serene and apply your talents and skills to the business of achievement. Don't just work; work hopefully.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Generous influences for worthwhile undertakings, keen action and management; NOT for impatience, intolerant people or poorly planned action. Accent your cleverness.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—No unusual planetary help now, but with your intelligent know-how, you can make much out of little. Aggressive tactics may be necessary in some matters. Seek your share of offerings.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Ponder sufficiently about the way, and at what speed, you must function as you start day's schedule. It will save time, retracing steps, bring better, bigger results. Have faith.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Familiar matters, work for which you have training or special talent can succeed now, BUT it may take extra effort, patience, and a certain amount of aggressiveness.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Avoid emotional scenes and recklessness now. Calmness, serenity of mind are conducive to more accurate results. But push forward reasonably.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—There may be moments when you feel the need for last-minute rushing or crowding things. Better stop and analyze before doing so. Be thoughtful, logical.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Not too difficult here for matters with which you are familiar or have training. Don't hop-scotch around. A well-planned program will bring more satisfactory results. Look ahead.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Your day may present many patterns. Choose well and you can come through with flying colors. Much depends upon the demands of your position and how you regulate and handle matters.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with energy, determination and power. You are most enterprising—at times bold and daring. Each success seems to spur you on to others, and the greater the obstacles the more determined you are to succeed. You are usually calm and practical-minded; reserved in manner and courteous but may be susceptible to flattery. You are reluctant about revealing secrets, opinions; sympathetic. Strike a happy medium in all things for better living and happiness.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, substract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

AN ORDINANCE NO. 110

AN ORDINANCE authorizing, ratifying, and confirming the execution by and on behalf of the Borough of Portland, of a certain Mortgage to the Portland National Bank to secure the Bond of the Portland Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 for the purpose of the construction of a municipal building.

THE BOROUGH OF PORTLAND HEREBY ORDAINS:

SECTION 1: The execution of the Burgess, President of Council, and Secretary of the Borough of Portland of a second Mortgage to the Portland National Bank of Portland, Pennsylvania, for the securing of the indebtedness of the Portland Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 of Portland, Pennsylvania, on property situate on the South side of State Street, purchased by the said Portland Hook and Ladder Company No. 1 for the Borough of Portland, from the Portland Realty Corporation by deed of December 7, 1953, for the erection of a municipal building thereon, is hereby authorized, ratified, and confirmed.

SECTION 2: The Mortgage shall be executed to the Portland National Bank to secure the principal sum of the Bond and Warrant of Attorney executed by the Portland Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, for the just sum of $6,000.00, payable within one year, with interest thereon at the rate of 5% per annum, payable quarter yearly. The Borough of Portland assumes no liability for the payment of said principal sum other than subjecting the said realty, and no other, to the lien of said Mortgage.

SECTION 3: The liability of the Borough of Portland therein is and shall be expressly limited to subjecting the said realty to the lien of said Mortgage, in accordance with the understanding between the said Portland Hook and Ladder Company No. 1 and the Borough of Portland, as a term and condition of the gift of said land unto this Borough.

Attest:

Watt Speaks To Gathering Of Lions

STROUDSBURG Lions, meeting Tuesday night in the Penn-Stroud heard an address by John Watts, trust officer of the Stroudsburg Security Trust Company, on "Trusts". He was introduced by Myron Zateeny, program chairman of the session.

The speaker cautioned his hearers with regard to the advisability of employing trusts in many business matters and advised consideration of the same by will testators making wills. He surprised the Lions by the many ways in which careful advance planning would protect the interests of survivors after the death of the family protector.

Theme

His subject theme was "How Much Is Your Money Worth?"

The speaker strongly advised all to make wills.

Harold Miller told of an alleged trip he made during the week to check up on the whereabouts and welfare of Leo the Long Eared Lion, rabbit mascot of the attendance contest.

Team two was at the bottom of the list this week and Miller awarded the custody of the rabbit to Ted Kaufman.

Thanksgiving Day Theme Of Missionary Society Service

BANGOR—An impressive candlelight service with Thanksgiving Day as the theme was conducted by the Women's Missionary Society of the First United Evangelical Church during the gathering at the church Tuesday. Some 50 women and men of the organization attended.

Miss Edith Wolfe and Mrs. William Jory were in charge of the program. Special music was provided by Mrs. Cecil Honey, Mrs. Olwen Messinger and Mrs. B. P. Gieske. Thanksgiving readings were given by Mrs. Jory, Miss Meda Mann, Mrs. Harry Flory, Mrs. Betty Flory and Mrs. Gieske.

Business

During the business session, directed by Mrs. George I. Godshalk, 12 new members were received. It also was voted to financially support another native missionary in India, bringing to two the number of missionaries supported by the society in the last two years.

A box of bandages was packed and shipped to Dr. Carl Becker for use in a leper colony in Africa. Baskets of fruit also were prepared for distribution to shut-ins. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Markley Reichard and Mrs. Milton Godshalk.

The Organization of American States now has the most complete catalogue in existence of Latin American art and artists of all periods.

Plans Made To Send Letters

BANGOR—Plans to send the annual Christmas letter to the membership were made at the meeting of the official board of the first Methodist Church at the church Tuesday.

Reports also were rendered by Mrs. Wesley Jones, secretary; Ralph Sayre, treasurer; Francis Spry, for the trustees and building committee; and Donald Spry, finance committee. The Rev. W. L. Hackman, pastor, presided.

Brazil Wins Carrier Race

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 14 (AP)—Naval authorities say Brazil has won the race to become the first Latin-American nation to own an aircraft carrier.

They said Brazil paid Britain $3,080,000 for an escort carrier that will handle 36 planes. Both Brazil and Argentina have been reported trying to buy a U. S. carrier.

Read Identical Passages

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — The American Bible Society estimates about 15 million Americans will join in reading identical Bible passages between Thanksgiving Day and Christmas. The program began 13 years ago when a lonely Marine on Guadalcanal asked his family to read the same Bible passage each day as a means of spiritually bringing the family together.

Auxiliary Of Mount Pocono Fire Company Discusses Importance Of Emergency Work

MOUNT POCONO—Mount Pocono Fire Co. Auxiliary held its regular meeting at the fire hall, Tuesday. The president, Mrs. David Bisbing, presided, and there was a good attendance.

Mrs. David Kohn spoke on the importance of being prepared to work with civil defense in case of an emergency. To help evacuate, and care for the people of New York and Philadelphia areas. There will be a class of instruction Wednesday Nov. 28 at 7:30 p.m. The instructor will be from Stroudsburg. It is hoped that every woman who can possibly attend, will do so.

Mrs. Bisbing gave a report on the Keystone State Fire Chiefs convention. The wives of the chiefs have formed an auxiliary, and received their charter. Mrs. Bisbing became a member. There were 118 chiefs and their wives at the banquet at Mt. Airy Lodge. The next meeting will be in Greensburg.

Office of chaplain was created and Mrs. Walter Schneider was appointed.

The nominating committee offered a list of nominees and elections will be held at the next meeting.

The five new tables arrived before the meeting.

The Christmas party will be held Dec. 11 at 6:30 p.m. at the fire hall. There will be entertainment, and all members are to bring a dollar gift to exchange. The dinner will be served by a caterer. There is a telephone committee, who will contact all members to make reservations.

The planning and arrangement committee is: Mesdames Irene Brock, Ettabelle Horgan, Bernice Fanseen and Miss Julia Hamblin.

The entertainment committee: Mrs. John Hamblin, Mrs. Lillian Zepel, Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. Rose Groner.

The menu committee: Pauline Whitlow, Marilyn Besecker and Florence Megargle.

A motion was carried to present $20 to the Community Chest.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by: Mrs. Robert Passenti, Mrs. Seldon Ponder, Mrs. Gerald Possinger, and Mrs. Charles Whitlow.

The Most Sweeping Change OF ALL!

In NEW YORK—People going places are going Pontiac!

Pontiac Has It—
in the Surprise Package of '57

Like surprises? You've got one coming in Pontiac for '57! It's completely new . . . from power to personality . . . so advanced it's handed the industry a whole fresh set of styling and engineering ideas!

Here's where you'll find all the big-time changes in looks, ride, handling, performance. There's an exciting new expression of vigor, alertness and luxury in styling. There's a new ease and confidence at the wheel as you pilot the greatest V-8 ever developed—a power plant that tops even last year's Strato-Streak which set 50 world records and bested all eights in miles per gallon!

And to prove it all, every feature of this great car has been perfected in the world's most exhausting road test—the 100,000-Mile Marathon Run!

No wonder they're calling this '57 Pontiac the Surprise Package of the Year! Come in and look it over. Drive it. You'll know in a single mile that you're driving America's No. 1 Road Car!

OVER 6 DOZEN "FIRSTS" INCLUDING...

Star Flight Body Design—a Pontiac Exclusive—longer and lower than ever before—'57's most distinctive styling.

New Interior Styling—the "Off-the-Shoulder" Look—a fashion "first" for '57—perfectly color-matched with the exterior.

New Strato-Streak V-8 Engine—270 h.p. in Star Chief and Super Chief, 252 h.p. in the Chieftain when teamed with Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic, an extra-cost option.

Cloud-Soft Level-Line Ride—the ride sensation of the year—a new suspension system based on a big, road-hugging 124- or 122-inch wheelbase.

3 Popular-Priced Series • Star Chief • Super Chief • Chieftain
